FOREWORD

Perhaps the thought uppermost in one's mind as "Blue and Blue" goes to press is the speed of the past year: so much happening; such little time. But in 1964 time has paused to mark one event significant for independent schools of this State: the granting of financial aid.

For ninety-four years our fathers have fought to heal the wound of 1870. Perhaps, this aid is a token only; but the fact is that the principle has been established and accepted by the people. No less an opponent of state aid than the "Sydney Morning Herald" declared after the last Federal election: "The battle against direct state aid as a principle has been lost." Probably, the best indication of public opinion was the remarkable lack of opposition when the N.S.W. education allowance was recently extended to include lower secondary classes.

True, the aid given does not equal the money spent on public schools. But most people are satisfied, confident that gradual increases will be made. Increases, of course, will come slowly. Politicians in a democracy carry out the wishes of electors, and it is electors who must first be convinced before a favourable climate of opinion results. Nevertheless, it is to the credit of politicians of our day, among them ex-student and Deputy-Premier P. D. Hills, that, in the face of bitter opposition and of uncertainty about public reaction, they have taken a step over which so many of their predecessors have hesitated.

Far from being divisive, as is often charged, parallel state and independent systems of education symbolize the true flowering of democracy, for in a democracy we pride ourselves on allowing all citizens freedom of personal expression without undue restriction, and on promoting unity in diversity. Totalitarian governments, on the other hand, require all citizens to fit into the same moulds. There, conformity is a virtue; self-expression, a vice.

People will always be given the education they deserve. If Australians want better education for their children, they must be prepared to pay more taxation. Figures show that, as a nation, we spend (1958) 2.9%* of our gross national product on education compared with 4.5% in United States, 3.7% in the United Kingdom, and 3.7% in the Soviet Union. We lag behind. We need to rethink our attitude not only towards a more equitable distribution of public funds but also to the actual amount spent.

No patriot can fail to see that money spent on independent schools is a national investment. Survival in the atomic era is essentially not so much a matter of arms but of mental and moral attitudes and it is in education that we find the key to men's minds. Modern education, too, is more expensive than formerly because of its increasing complexity and, whatever the justice of its claim, to have a not inconsequential section of the nation lagging in this race because the financial strain approaches breaking point is an unhealthy situation.

For ninety-four years, and longer, Catholics in their education system have done great things for the nation; for ninety years Darlinghurst has fully shouldered its part in that system. Now, in this its ninetieth year, we modestly record religious activity that has resulted in nine vocations to the Church, devotion to study which maintains Darlinghurst in the first rank of Schools, and extra-curricular pursuits in keeping with our best traditions. As modern schools are judged, we are small and our classes small, a great advantage in the educational field where, in company with other aspects of life, we tend towards mass treatment to the detriment of individuals. There are extremes, however; we do need some increase to help us in the varied activities of school life.

May it please God that this increase will come, and may Darlinghurst embark with confidence on the last decade of its first hundred years.

A WORLD FORCE IN CONFERENCE.

THE MARIST BROTHERS' PAST STUDENTS' ASSOCIATION

In August, 1964, Buenos Aires, capital of Argentina, was host city to some 1,500 Marist Brothers and laymen — former students — from many countries of the world. The occasion was the Second World Congress of Marist Brothers' ex-students. During the fortnight of the Congress delegates came to know one another under ideal conditions, seeing at the same time a considerable part of a fascinating country and having a chance to discuss important topics centring round the fuller development of the spiritual world force of Marist tradition. The beginnings of this world movement occurred some years ago in Spain.

There the ex-students of the many Marist schools began to federate in order to hold regional meetings and consolidate the influences that had moulded their characters during school days and afterwards. So successful were these gatherings that they brought into being a national association dedicated to the diffusion of the Catholic ideals. The growth of the original cell has been progressive and continuous.

It was in South America that success was spectacular. In the past seventy years in South America the Marist Brothers have been the leading force in Catholic education on all levels, including that of the university. In each State of Brazil central colleges have been established. The plan to fuse all the separate sections into a great federation sparked off a wave of enthusiasm.

Spain may claim to be the fastest growing Marist nation, Italy the most enthusiastic in view of its smaller number of schools, French Canada the most closely knit province and South America the most advanced in achievement.

Brazil is unique and a jewel in its own class. It numbers seven provinces, and produces many vocations, in clear contrast to the rest of South America. However in fairness it must be stated that these came from German and Italian migrants rather than the Portuguese majority. Its crowning creation is the great Marist University of Porto Alegre where Brother Otao presides in his religious habit over nine faculties and 350 professors and directs a rapidly expanding building programme on an extensive campus.

Brazil holds its own national Marist Congress and sent some 200 delegates to the world gathering in Buenos Aires, no small feat for a nation greater in area than Australia.

Argentine, host to the second World Congress may well feel entitled to pre-eminence in its own field. The distance is as far from Montreal as is Sydney but it succeeded in filling three chartered planes with 200 visitors to the first Congress and had 11,000 ready to receive its guests in the home capital, Buenos Aires. It also established a record in organization, hospitality and magnificence which is likely to remain for many years unchallenged.

Some 1,500 ex-students attended the Congress of whom about 400 came from outside countries, mainly South America and ample provision was made to cope with the needs at every function and to provide entertainment in free time.

Almost all the Latin American countries count the Marist Brothers as the principal teaching congregation, though most of the others share in the work. The Marists were the first to respond at the end of the nineteenth century to the call for religious teachers from Europe to cope with the grave need; and in time they managed to found their houses in most of the bigger cities with the result that they have a wide coverage, although the number of schools in each city is small in comparison with the population. They are still a drop in a big ocean, in a city like Buenos Aires with six million people and only four colleges.

All the colleges sent delegations of ex-students, Brothers and senior boys to represent them and the Congress afforded these lads a great educational opportunity of widening their horizons and practising foreign languages. Education is highly esteemed everywhere and the Argentine prides itself on its sophistication and European culture. Its capital is called the Paris of South America and its population includes at least fifty per cent. of fairly recent migrants mainly from Italy and Germany with strong pockets of English and Irish. These groups retain, as far as possible, their own languages and cultures although they consider themselves fully Argentinians and use Spanish in public life.

English speakers were rare and all the more welcome for that. English delegates were at Montreal and will be in force at nearby Belgium. Last year they ran a very successful European meeting in Glasgow and probably felt that their finances could not be further strained.

The U.S.A. was a notable absentee for the reason that Parent Associations function there in place of Old Boys' Unions and so no liaison exists with other countries. This may change in time when the Congregation spreads outside the two or three States on the Eastern seaboard to which it is confined at present.

Fraternization was a keynote of the Congress. Everyone did his best to make the acquaintance of the rest, and the spirit which is usually a characteristic of such bodies as Rotary made membership of the Federation a pass word to friendly introductions and full hospitality. This very bond was discussed with enthusiasm at one session and some national associations are proud of their practice of welcoming any visitor from foreign countries who bear the Marist emblem.

The ideals of blessed Marcellin Champagnat have so profoundly influenced the Catholic life of families and nations that they are visioned as a world force for the spread of the Kingdom of Christ. The Brothers, when they arrived in some lands, brought into classrooms not so much knowledge as a way of life equally applicable to parents. The world has its problems, just as has each individual, and the way of dealing with them is to be found in the principles of the founder, Blessed Marcellin who is a saint as well as a great educator. These principles are within the body of the teaching of his sons and whose ex-pupils should be equipped to face up to the challenges of life, whatever their nature. Nor does the connection break on the day of departure from school; rather do the seeds sown in adolescence ripen and mature in the later life of men still in close contact with their old schools.

When one learns that in many countries, due to a crippling shortage of clergy and other causes, there is no other body capable of keeping in touch even with so many sections of the people, the responsibilities and field of action of the Brothers must widen inevitably. In Argentina, a land of 40,000,000 nominal Catholics perhaps twenty per cent. are instructed regular churchgoers. When families of the majority enrol their sons in a Catholic school a chance occurs to teach parents as well as children when there is no other.

The Brothers, and apostolic ex-students as well, receive an injection of spiritual vigour from a Congress of so many visitors who show the vitality of the Faith throughout the world. The Brothers themselves are mostly Europeans who labour as missionaries far away from home in long neglected lands and we help them immensely by our interest. The students in the schools were deeply impressed in private conversations as well as in the many classes I was asked to visit when they found out that Australia, far from being English and Protestant, has such a healthy Catholic tradition and independent nationality; and most of all they were surprised to hear of so many Catholic schools, all staffed by Australian-born religious. It was a completely contrasting picture to the local one, especially since anything Anglo-Saxon or Irish means so much to them.

Discussion reached a high level in the business sessions. Summing up general impressions I would say that the theme underlying all topics was the need for Christians to tackle together in the closest harmony and mutual understanding the evils menacing us all, and in particular the youth.

As far as we Maristonians are concerned, we have in our hands sufficient means to do our full part if we make fitting use of them. We must understand the whole situation and this is where our schools come in; we must be animated with the apostolic religious fervour of Marcellin Champagnat, we must make ourselves as one universal family, the heirs to one tradition, powerful enough to make a tremendous impact in the greater part of the world.

And this is where a World Federation of Marist Ex-Students comes in.

REV. BROTHER OTHMAR, F.M.S.

The Rev. Brother Superior General of the Marist Brothers recently announced the appointment of Rev. Brother Othmar as Provincial of the Sydney Province of the Institute. He will succeed Brother Quentin whose period of office has expired.

Brother Othmar was educated at the Marist Brothers' College, Sale, Victoria, before entering our training colleges at Mittagong. He was received into the Institute in 1939.

Brother Othmar was associated for eleven years with St. Joseph's College, Hunters Hill, becoming Headmaster there in 1955. From 1952 to 1954 he had been in charge of the Marist Brothers' High School, Kogarah.

In 1963 Brother Othmar spent about a year overseas studying in Switzerland. On his return he became Superior of the Marist Brothers' College, Ashgrove, Brisbane, where he remained until his present appointment. Brother Othmar will take to his new position a wide experience gained in Australia and overseas.

The Sydney Province, which is one of the largest in the Marist world, stretches from the Diocese of Canberra-Goulburn in New South Wales to the Diocese of Cairns in North Queensland. There are two missions, one in New Guinea and one in the Solomon Islands, nearly 36 Houses in all and 400 Brothers in the Province.

REV. BROTHER QUENTIN, F.M.S.

Brother Quentin's term as Superior of the Sydney Province of the Marist Brothers has just concluded. To this appointment he had brought a fund of learning and experience, for Brother Quentin had taught in most of the States of Australia before spending many years at Darlinghurst and in the years immediately preceding his provincialship was Headmaster of Marcellin College, Randwick, and of St. Joseph's College, Hunters Hill.

In his position as Provincial Superior Brother Quentin was able to exercise to the full his innate ability to appreciate each Brother's work, to fit him into the scheme of things where he was best suited, and then to follow his progress with interest.

Standing: Mr. S. Gould, Br. Theodore, Br. Walter, Br. Lionel, Br. Bonaventure, Br. Columba.
Seated: Br. Hugh, Br. Ferrer, Br. Norman (Director), Br. Peter, Br. Ian.
Absent: Mr. B. Wyllie.

No sooner had Brother Quentin finished the task of organising the Scholasticate at Dundas and remodelling the Provincial House at Drummoyne than he found himself face to face with the tremendous task of reorganising the Marist Schools for the implementation of the Wyndham Scheme.

Few people associated with Catholic education had a better grasp of what the Wyndham Scheme meant to Catholic Schools: the re-zoning of schools; staff and building requirements; ramifications of new and modified subjects. This task he attacked with decision and vigour even to the extent of closing schools when he considered this necessary. He has planned with an eye to the future and has succeeded in locating schools in strategic areas where they can be best used and expanded at a later date.

Not only in the Archdiocese of Sydney but also in Canberra, Brother Quentin was listened to by Cabinet Ministers as one speaking with authority. As an Australian Superior of the Order, Brother Quentin made two trips abroad at a time when the Australian Province needed reports from overseas educational establishments. At the same time Brother Quentin found himself much sought after for advice about European Marist problems.

The Brothers wait with interest the announcement of a new and profitable field of endeavour for Brother Quentin.

REV. E. SZONDI.

At this year's ordination at St. Mary's Cathedral, an ex-student of the School, Rev. Father Eugene Szondi, became the first New Australian of Hungarian extraction to be ordained for the Archdiocese of Sydney. Father Eugene had attended Darlinghurst from Fourth Class to Leaving Certificate.

Early in July Father Szondi celebrated a First Mass at the Sacred Heart Church, Darlinghurst. Afterwards he came to the School for a presentation on behalf of the Brothers and boys. To complete the morning's celebrations the Brothers and House Captains were joined by Father and his friends in a luncheon prepared by the Ladies' Auxiliary. Ad multos annos, Father Eugene.

CLASS NOTES, 5A

Michael Aisbett. Back in L.C. for another year. Prominent in football and cricket. Came third in the class.

Warren Bowen. Our "baby". Noted for his football and swimming prowess, but ready to try anything once.

John Cooper. Had little to say, a serious student and life-saver of note.

Peter Dorhauer. An eager exponent of chess but found few converts to his intellectual pursuit.

Christopher Frost. Transferred from the Blues to become Captain of the Golds. Energetic leader and organiser.

John Hession. Came to Darlinghurst from Chevalier. Had little to say except for a few words of broken French to remind us that he was our only foreign language student. Born in Queensland.

Michael Hills. Prominent in some peculiar extra-curricular activities, the terror of new recruits. Sure to follow his father into politics.

Godfrey Isouard. Always knew where to find the oil for troubled waters. Also noted for his extreme enthusiasm in returning to class after recess.

Lionel Leo. Never lost his sense of humour in the face of admiring small boys and occasional comments about Italian spaghetti.

Reginald Longhurst. The "mad scientist" of L.C. and the instigator of one minor explosion and many strange odours in the lab. Reg. took out the Maths. prize instead.

Bernard McGee. His interest in study belies his looks. Generally he disproved grim prophecy with a creditable performance in term exams.

Christopher Minahan. His forte was electronics and Physics Honours above and beyond all else. Bewildered those who had not yet made their own computers.

John Prouzos. A mathematician like some of his ancestors. Energetic supporter of Greece's rights in Cyprus; otherwise no comment.

Robert Quinn. Senior cadet under officer and captain of the Reds. An energetic leader in sport and in the occasional class debate.

John Robinson. Was the smallest member of the class and rarely allowed to forget it. Worked like a beaver at Maths. and was an authority on the correct temperature and pressure of a classroom.

Thaddeus Sozanski. Came to the fore in Chemistry in the experimental aspects of which he had all the answers for those inexperienced in the use of glassware and unwieldy lengths of rubber tubing.

Robert Timmins. Despite a few abortive attempts to outwit the Chemistry master and disprove the basic laws of Science, Bob won through to capture the Chemistry prize.

Anthony Wilmshurst. A strong advocate and energetic defender of some unorthodox political views. Always willing to volunteer, especially as a cadet.

Paul Winch. Rarely aroused to rapid mental activity, except during Physics period. At all times he preferred to be the strong silent man.

Robert Woog. Prominent as a leader in the cadet unit, but prone to major tactical blunders in Physics.

John Worthington. Hailed from Murwillumbah, up near the Queensland border, and was frequently reminded of his "bush" origin. Prominent in study, sport and cadets.

Paul Young. Even though a midget, took an active, if not a prominent part in sport and other school activities. A conscientious student.

(John Kennedy. The author of the unabridged version of these notes. A true Republican, Irishman, somewhat inaptly named "Jock". Always dependable for a wise answer when other minds remained barren. Class Dux and our white hope for L.C. Ed.)

—John Kennedy, 5A.

CLASS NOTES, 5B

Michael Marshall. School Captain, a good leader in every way, keen and active in sport, a conscientious student.

Kevin Cook. A boy of courage. We mourned his death just before the L.C. May he rest in peace.

John Barclay. Played an active part in a class noted for its spontaneous reactions to the Brothers' questions — blank looks and silence.

Paul Brennan. One of the active 5B sportsmen, interested in football, athletics and, of course, study.

Joseph Buda. The example of how an L.C. boy should work in school. His determination will bring its reward. No mean footballer.

Peter Cleary. A theatrical artist at heart. Much of his spare time was taken up with sporting activities.

Robert Collins. No fuss about Bob. A steady worker in School and active in cricket and golf particularly.

Gregory Coonan. Another Darlington Olympic hope. Made his presence felt inside and outside the classroom.

William Crowe. The very model of a major-general. Though his voice was not often heard in school, it came through loud and clear on the parade ground. Active in the Marian Sodality.

Terence Clifton. Realised, nearly too late, that 5B was the better class. An irreplaceable loss to 5A. A footballer of note.

Trevor Daley. Although the wrath of authority often fell on him, he retained his sense of humour at all times. A mimic of note.

Leigh Davies. Definitely the leader in fashion. Is getting up-to-date for the L.C.

Kym Derriman. Enjoyed school life so much that he came back for a second sitting. A very smart dresser, especially on Saturday mornings.

William Duncan. An excellent drummer, a veritable Ringo. His interests were not confined to the parade ground, studied hard.

Joseph Encarnacao. Joe's return to school this year was our gain. Stayed out of trouble, too; had no need of diplomatic immunity.

Max Granger. His renditions of Gilbert and Sullivan often enlivened otherwise dull proceedings. One of the intelligentsia.

Bernard Grant. Sat without a murmur through every day of it, absorbing everything without comment. Here is a recruit for the Silent Service.

Robert Keep. Lived in a more rarefied atmosphere than we pygmies. This giant shone at all sport and kept on top of the learnin'.

John McLaughlin. In years the "baby" of the class. Another who delighted in chasing the leather ball. Getting fit for the mad Christmas rush at D.J.'s.

Terence Malone. Repeated L.C., becoming a Team Captain. A conscientious student who carried others along with him.

Warner Meredith. The class soap-box orator. His activities included speech-making, army life and sodality work.

Eric Mostowij. Two operations in the last term did not deter Eric. He even carried off the Ancient History prize and came third in the class.

Denis O'Connor. To whom the new Gladesville Bridge was a boon, finally arrived at school on time. A good student who kept the class alive.

Thomas Passaro. Another commuter from the backblocks. Interested in all school activities.

Loris Polovineo. Took a lively interest in everything — sodality, cadets, sport.

Peter Redman. Yet another all-rounder, excelling in swimming. In the best Darlington tradition, this did not interfere with his studies.

Sydney Robinson. Liked school so much that he did not miss a day for ten years. One of the stalwarts of the Cadet Unit, with more than a passing interest in sport, our only captain-coach.

Paul Shakes. When he broke an arm in the middle of the year a family effort kept him afloat in a sea of books. Yet another army man.

John Simpson. A Darlo. boy to the core. Could always be relied on for a community effort. A leader in the scholastic field.

Anthony Smith. Like so many others of us, he more than held his own in sport and extra-curricular activities as well as in the class.

Bernard York. Country-bred but not overawed by our big city. Football and swimming commitments occupied his spare time.

Gary Stanmore. Another L.C. boy of ten years' standing. He, too, saw the light and stepped down from the academic heights of 5A to 5B where he could put his feet on the ground. Excellent team captain and sportsman. Did not lose sight of the serious side of life.

Barry Swords. (Author of the unexpurgated edition of these notes. Dux of 5B. A keen student, seen but not heard; another candidate for the Silent Service. Ed.)

THE SNOWY TOUR

During the August holidays a party of thirty boys from the School, accompanied by four Brothers, made a tour of the Snowy Mountains Scheme.

After an overnight drive to Cooma the tour proper began. Amongst the highlights was the inspection of Tumut No. 2 underground power station. The generators are more than one thousand feet underground accessible through a mile long tunnel dug in from the base of the mountain below Cabramurra. The coach was able to provide a drive in service. Tobogganing in the snow on the slopes round Kiandra was a novelty for the city boys. The usual snow fights were enjoyed and the boys found at least four excellent targets at which to direct their attack. However all were reluctant to give up the struggle when the signal for retreat sounded.

Other places of interest visited included the Island Bend Tunnel and the huge Eucumbene Dam. One morning was spent in a launch cruise on Lake Eucumbene to the site of Old Adaminaby, one of the towns submerged as part of the Snowy Scheme.

Accommodation throughout the tour was in visitors' hostels. The whole building was centrally heated for comfort, but what appealed to the boys most of all was that they could "back up" for as many "helpings" as the cold climate demanded at meal time.

On the way home a short time was spent in Canberra city and at the National War Memorial; and passing through the Blue Mountains the bus took the tourists for an inspection of the Wombeyan Caves.

It was a memorable and enjoyable trip, though all too short; but there is always another year.

CAREERS NIGHT

A Careers Night was held at the Paddington Town Hall in the middle of September at which boys from the School and their parents could meet personnel officers from the university, government departments and various business houses. These gentlemen gave short lectures to small groups and answered questions.

A review of the night made it clear that there had been a great need to invite experts from appropriate bodies to help school leavers. Many parents encourage their sons to aspire to a university career when the boy himself is unfitted for tertiary education. Statistics show that fewer than ten per cent. of any age group in Australia go to the university and that fewer than half of these are successful in their particular year. Boys with other special abilities might like to undertake diploma courses in Commerce or Science, knowing that many employers prefer to engage a young man who is about to undertake a course at college. Again boys with L.C. passes may now choose apprenticeships for seventeen-year-olds and have sufficient educational background to become the elite of their trades.

Among the advisers who assisted us at the Careers Night were:—

Mr. Rippendale of the Commonwealth Public Service,

Mr. G. E. Boundy, Selection Committee, State Public Service.

Mr. R. Sheen, Senior Counsellor, University of N.S.W.

Mr. J. Bolster, Accountant.

Mr. A. Blomgren, Department of Labour and Industry.

Mr. Nancarrow, Commonwealth Bank of Australia.

Mr. C. F. Bull, Personnel Education Officer, Woolworths.

Mr. J. Garnsey, M.L.C. Insurance Co.

Mr. E. H. Fielding, Personnel Officer, Department of Railways.

Lt.-Comander Marshall, Services Recruiting Officer.

Mr. Richardson, Guidance Officer, Sydney Technical College.

Mr. O'Brien, Sydney County Council.

Mr. J. Collins, Qantas Airways.

Mr. P. Ford, Appointment Officer, Australian Broadcasting Commission.

Mr. C. S. Hertz, Careers Officer, P.M.G. Department.

Perhaps the few thoughts below, bereft of figures, might give a clearer picture to minds not attuned to statistical detail: "Soliloquy" has been kindly written by Mr. R. A. Sheen, M.A., Senior Counsellor, Student Counselling Research Unit, University of New South Wales.

A SOLILOQUY

"To be, or not to be, that is the question."

Graduation day . . . at last it has arrived. It's been tough, but it was worth it . . . I feel good . . . I've achieved something and the achieving has been a pleasurable one. Sure there have been times when I've been unhappy, disturbed, frustrated and even bored with study, but the other pleasant times have been more frequent . . . It's been exciting . . . exciting discovering new knowledge, meeting other people, doing the thing I'm interested in, learning important things, looking forward to doing an important job. Life at University has been good. Yes, there were lots of frustrating things like not having enough money, being dependent on the "oldies", not being able to understand some of the work, having to cope with new methods of study, having to discover standards, trying to find out what was expected of me as a student, not being able to go out with my working mates because of my study commitments . . . But it was worth it . . . I'm a much happier guy than I would have been, and I've broadened my horizons in many ways . . . I've discovered University is not just a continuation of school; it's an adventure, a job, a challenge and you've got to be strong to make it . . . Strong in mind, perseverance, determination . . . Strong enough to overcome pretty severe strains, frustrations and fears of failure . . . Strong enough to be ready to recognise and accept yourself for what you are, and to seek help when it's needed. Yes, apart from gaining professional qualifications, and apart from learning to think, I reckon I've grown up a lot and become more of a person.

It's remarkable, when I come to recall it, how soon I started to think about University. As soon as I entered High School, it struck me . . . I was interested because of the subjects I needed to choose . . . I remember Mum and Dad went up to the school and talked to Brother and then they talked to me about what I'd like to do . . . Of course, it was a bit early to make any firm plans, but it set me thinking. It gave me an opportunity to try myself out on subjects like mathematics and science in case I wanted to be a scientist, or engineer. I had some goal, some purpose, and it helped my study too . . . I remember lots of the fellows didn't have any idea of what they wanted, and many of them drifted along, and some even drifted into University, without having considered why they were there or what they wanted to do . . . most of them didn't make it either.

Going into fourth year was another critical time . . . I was starting to know what I was good at, what I was interested in, and had begun to feel I was capable of doing more advanced study . . . Again, we, that is, Mum and Dad and I, talked to Brother . . . This was pretty important . . . We were able to get a clearer picture of me and what I might do — some of the glamour was wiped off and the good hard facts presented . . . Bill, my mate, didn't look at things clearly then . . . he took a maths-science fourth and fifth year . . . after almost failing in these in the Inter. . . . He didn't even make the Leaving.

I started to look beyond the school, some time about then. The Vocational Guidance Bureau has a lot of good pamphlets about careers . . . I started to look to the Universities . . . I learned there were Student Counsellors and Student Advisors who would help prospective students to sort out their vocational aims . . . Apart from that, I've found this bunch useful during my course too . . . helping with study problems . . . and also with a personal problem I had once.

One thing began to emerge then; that I was responsible for myself . . . for my own decisions . . . I couldn't expect Dad to make my decisions for me; I couldn't expect Brother to make them for me; I couldn't expect the Vocational Guidance Bureau or the University to tell me what to do. But I could use them to get opinions and talk over the problem.

PENNY—

By Haenigsen

(Reproduced with kind permission of the Sydney Morning Herald.)

Going back to Dad and Mum . . . I'm grateful to them. They didn't try to make me do what they wanted . . . but they were always there to talk over things and to encourage me to search further . . . I remember three of the guys in fifth year with me . . . Tom. His father wanted him to become a doctor. Tom had little choice. The reason seemed to be that medicine is a prestige profession, but Tom hated it . . . Harry. He took two attempts at the Leaving and then just managed. He didn't really want to go on to further study but was made to . . . it seemed as if he was a "status-symbol" for his parents . . . Jack went into a course that qualified him for a profession where lots of money was to be made . . . Yes, Dad and Mum were pretty good to me. Sure, they're bits of squares sometimes and we don't always agree on things, but they did let me choose for myself and helped me sort out my problems.

When the Leaving results came out was an important time. This was the first time I had been measured against all the fellows of my own vintage . . . I was able to get a look at my relative ability. It was handy to know that the Leaving pass is the best available indication of possible University success. Lots of the fellows thought psychological tests were better but I understand this is not so. I reckon the comic strip "Penny" that I saw recently had a lot of truth in it . . . Although I'd done fairly well in the Leaving, I had a yarn with Brother before making my final decision . . . I figured the teachers at school would know more about me academically and personally than anyone else . . . From their own experience they knew too that it takes more than ability to be successful at Uni. . . . and I wanted to hear what they thought of my chances . . . I recall Ron was there on the same day to see Brother. Ron had gained five B's, and, on the surface didn't look a good bet . . . He told me later that Brother was able to point out that his illness during the year, and some other circumstances, might have affected his result, and, that as he appeared to have the necessary personal qualities, there was a good chance of his succeeding at Uni. . . . He did too. Graduated with first class honours

. . . Generally though, the guys that got the Honours and A's at the Leaving were the most successful, and those with five B's or a little better, the least successful . . . It was sobering for me to learn, when I hit Uni., that only a little more than half of all starters graduate . . . It made me realise I had to work hard, and made me thankful I'd gone some way to sorting out my career before I started . . . Bob was saying the same thing. He went to Tech. . . . He found there the sort of course he needed . . . Harry got two first class honours in Maths. at the Leaving and he's doing Actuarial studies . . . There are lots of jobs that are available without University qualifications . . . and it's a good thing to try sorting out the one most suited to yourself before taking the plunge.

I reckon I was lucky . . . There were lots of people who, with the best intentions, would have tried to make my decision for me . . . But I went to some of the right people, and they made me realise that it was my own responsibility . . . I'm glad I went to the school first, and I'm glad I went to see lots of other people, and I'm glad I read the literature about careers and referred to the University Calendars and Handbooks . . . I'm glad I discussed the issues with Brother and with the University Student Counsellors and Advisors . . . But it was my decision in the long run and I'm glad I made it.

Yes, it feels good to have graduated . . . And I'm just a little bit proud of myself.

The junior and senior sodalities kept up the good work of the past three years and the number of members continued to increase. Outside activities included the visitation of St. Vincent's Hospital each week and of the Seamen's Institute. Sodality members from the various schools combined to march in a body at the diocesan Corpus Christi procession at Manly.

Earlier in the year the two sodalities enjoyed the presence of Rev. Father McAlary at their meetings as Chaplain, but after his transfer Brothers Lionel and Columba presided at the weekly meetings.

Each Tuesday the junior sodality treated religious matters of topical interest, discussed films and TV shows, and made themselves familiar with latest developments at the Ecumenical Council. The two sodalities combined for fund raising ventures, for example, the "Pound Day" collection to augment supplies for the Little Sisters of the Poor.

The junior sodality was very active in collecting stamps for the Mission.

The executives for the year were:—

Senior:—

President: W. Crowe.
 Secretary: W. Meredith.
 Treasurer: C. Frost.

Junior:—

President: G. Minahan.
 Secretary: T. O'Brien.
 Treasurer: A. Morrissey.

SECOND YEAR CADETS AND BAND

MARIST MISCELLANEA

Rev. Brother Hilary still resides at the Marist Brothers' Generalate in Rome as Assistant-General for Australia and New Zealand.

Brother Quentin has just completed his term as Provincial of the Sydney Province of the Brothers in Australia. An account of his work occurs elsewhere in the magazine.

Brother Gerard appears on another page of "Blue and Blue" being entertained by the O.B.U. on the occasion of his Diamond Jubilee as a Brother.

Brother Demetrius, Brother Swithin and Brother Patrick do not venture far from Newcastle these days. Brother Demetrius has just been promoted to the position of Provincial Councillor.

Brother Salvius continues his good work as recruiter for the Brothers. He has had some success at Darlinghurst over the past twelve months.

Brother Michael is on the State Syllabus Committee implementing the Wyndham Scheme.

Brother Ambrose came from North Queensland in January to take charge of the Novitiate at Mittagong.

Brother Ildephonsus has solved his problem of being stationed at North Sydney or Mosman by settling for Mosman.

Brother Vianney found the Western Suburbs too far away from his old stamping ground and has been transferred to Randwick with Brother Elgar and Brother Stanislaus.

Brother Samuel is still in Brisbane.

Brother Cloman has just completed his term in charge of our school at Rosalie, Brisbane, and will be leaving for the Second Novitiate in Switzerland at the end of the year.

Brother Donald Mahon has been in the Solomon Islands for the past twelve months.

Brother Cuthbert has shifted his abode to Woolwich but he still teaches at Villa Maria.

Brother Martin and Brother Hubert Mahon occasionally call in from Kogarah.

Brother Brendan, ousted from Bondi Junction, is now in charge of Daceyville.

Brother Remigius Muller returned from Brisbane this year to Randwick.

In the various university groups at the Scholasticate are past pupils of the School:

Brothers Anthony Craven, Francis and Peter McMahon, Raymond Mulvogue, Christopher Gummer and John Thompson.

Brothers Joseph Hall and Patrick Fahy are doing their six months in the schools at Auburn and Innisfail, respectively.

Brothers Raymond Akhurst and Robert Jones were received into the Marist Brothers in July.

Patrick Moraghan, Anthony Britton, Robert Garafano, Michael Evesson and Gregory Fraser are in Fourth Year at our Juniorate in Mittagong.

The list of seminarians from the School is growing too: As already reported Father Eugene Szondi was ordained at St. Mary's Cathedral this year.

Jim Grainger, Kevin Fitzpatrick, Terry Quinn and John Murray are approaching their ordination year. Their annual visits to the school are bearing fruit, too. Noel Pye and John Andersen entered St. Columba's College, Springwood, this year and Guy Hartcher began his studies at the Vincentian Novitiate at Eastwood.

CADETS

A variety of tasks occupied the unit throughout 1964. Both in public appearances, in camp and on the range the cadets reached a high state of efficiency. Enthusiasm displayed by all ranks ensured a successful year's training.

Bivouac: In the early part of the year the unit held a bivouac in the Little Forest area round Holsworthy. Experience gained here proved invaluable in the Annual Camp in September. "Woog's Wangers" proved themselves ruthless terrorists, capturing "General Little", only to lose him when the Rangers were wiped out by "Quinn's Quads". Cpl. Bill Duncan has decided to add the word "our" next time he asks: "Which way to camp?"

Anzac Day: On Anzac Day the unit assisted at a Requiem Mass for the fallen at the Sacred Heart Church, Darlinghurst. Later a wreath was laid at the Anzac Memorial by U./O. Robert Quinn. Gus Belansky sounded the Last Post for which rendering he received high praise.

Annual Camp: Time in camp was, in the main, devoted to field activities. A bivouac and Operation Holdfast gave Cadets a good taste of outdoor life. Cpl. Polovineo did his best to disprove the adage "an army marches on its stomach", but there was always the grass to eat. U./O. Robert Quinn led a wild charge on Marcellin College, however instead of gaining even one prisoner had to suffer a casualty in Cpl. L. Reilly.

Education Week: The whole unit took part in a march through the streets of Sydney during Education Week. Cadets from the whole of the metropolitan area took part and the unit's own band had the honour of leading the parade. (Drum Major William Crowe excelled himself, as usual. Ed.)

Our final public appearance for the year was the band's participation in the Waratah Pageant.

Once again the unit is indebted to W.O. II Galloway for his assistance in all facets of training and administration. We pray that God will protect him while serving in Vietnam, where he is about to take up an appointment. Major Lofts and his staff at 7 Cadet H.Q. also deserve our gratitude.

W. Crowe (L.C.).

 Seated: C. Frost, W. Bowen (reserve), G. Stanmore (Capt.), T. Malone, W. Sheehy.

Football continues to be the dominant sport at Darlinghurst. The boys play in three competitions, the Metropolitan Catholic Colleges, the Combined Intermediate Schools Association and the Eastern Suburbs District Schools Rugby Football League.

In the M.C.C. the small A Grade side played tigerish football and after a series of close games finished third in the competition.

In the C.I.S.A. the 6 st. team were co-premiers, while the 5st. 7 lb. team were undefeated premiers. Sid Robinson, of 5th Year, deserves special thanks for his coaching of the Open team in this competition, their standard of play showed a marked improvement throughout the season.

We enjoyed our greatest success in the E.S.D.S.R.F.L. competition. These games are conducted on Saturday mornings. The Brothers and boys are very appreciative of the interest and support the parents have given to this venture. We would like to thank Mr. J. O'Brien and Mr. K. Noonan for the help they gave in the coaching of these prospective footballers. Our four teams played in the three finals of this competition, the results were as follows:

- 7 st. Division: M.B. Darlinghurst A 13 d. M.B. Darlinghurst B 9.
- 6 st. Division: M.B. Darlinghurst 5 d. St. Charles 0.
- 5 st. Division: M.B. Coogee 17 d. M.B. Darlinghurst 0.

B GRADE TEAM

 Centre Row: P. Borg, J. Hession, R. Woog, I. Perucic, M. Bradley, W. Bowen.

During the season we participated in three knock-out competitions: Campbelltown, Westmead and the Eastern Suburbs K.O. At Westmead we won the aggregate point score, the 7 st. 7 lb. division, 6 st. division, 5 st. 7 lb. division, and our 6 st. team were awarded the trophy for "The Champion Team" at the carnival. At the Eastern Suburbs we won the 9 st. division, 8 st. division and 5 st. 7 lb. division.

Those not in representative teams played in an organised House competition. This competition is the nursery for our representative players. Last year's premiers, the Blues, once again proved too strong for the opposition and are reported to be very keen to make it "three in a row" next year.

We rounded off the Football season with our own House K.O. competition with representative and Colour competition players playing together. We saw some of the best, most vigorous and closest games of the season. Once again we had a glorious day and that wonderful band of competent mothers to look after our temporal needs—thank you ladies! At the end of a very tiring but enjoyable day we found that the Blues were Football Champions — 1964.

GOLF

GOLF CHAMPIONS

P. Winch, P. Cleary, R. Collins, J. Cooke.

Golf continues to cast its spell over its devoted enthusiasts. This year the School entered a team in the N.S.W. Schoolboys' Championships and we finished 8th. Once again Moore Park was the venue for the Senior Championship, where P. Cleary with a round of 86 took out the title. As yet the Junior Championship has not been held, but this is expected to be a keen tussle between G. Forslund and G. Noonan.

Senior Championship:—

1. P. Cleary: 86.

2. G. Forslund, P. Winch: 90.

4. J. Cooke: 93.

Some snaps of social evenings: the School Dance, Careers Night, Brother Gerard's Jubilee Dinner, Farewell to L.C.

SOCIAL

THE ANNUAL DANCE

This was the first time the Fourth Year boys, including myself, had been at the Annual Dance. As usual it was held in the Paddington Town Hall at the end of Second Term. The evening was one I shall not easily forget.

Some of the boys brought their own partners, not risking a "blind date", but the thanks of most of us go to the Sisters of St. Vincent's, Potts Point, to the Brigantine Convent, Randwick, for sending only the most charming girls to join us for the evening.

We are also grateful to Mr. T. Akhurst, President of the Parents and Friends' Association at Darlinghurst for seeing that there were no "wall-flowers", and to the orchestra who kept things swinging along during the evening until we could take no more.

Our Headmaster, Brother Norman, met and welcomed the guests; while Brother Peter was conspicuous with his candid camera. The interest shown by all the members helped us to enjoy the evening more. We were not disappointed in our expectation of a display of ballroom dancing by our instructors, Mr. Froulop and Miss Paton. It made one wonder whether the day would ever come when we should possess such skill.

Once again the Ladies' Auxiliary had an anxious evening wondering whether our appetites would be really satisfied before we proceeded to devouring the flowers on the tables.

Thank you ladies, thank you Brothers, thank you all, for a wonderful evening.

Let it not be thought that the girls did not appreciate our invitation. As a matter of fact we had some delightful evenings during the winter as guests of St. Vincent's, Potts Point.

James Gorman (Fourth Year).

FAREWELL TO THE LEAVING CERTIFICATE

The Farewell Dinner given by Fourth Year to the 1964 Leaving Certificate Class was held at the Paddington Town Hall on Wednesday, November 4. All present were treated to a tasty meal prepared by the ladies of the Parents and Friends' Association.

Those present at the official table included representatives of the Old Boys' Union and of the Parents and Friends' Association besides the Brothers of the School. An apology was received from Rev. Father Callway of the Sacred Heart parish.

After Brother Norman had said the prayer for the Pope, the chairman, Bill Sheehy, formally welcomed the guests.

Then came the moment all the boys anxiously awaited — time for the speeches from the Fourth Year and Leaving Certificate boys. Every speaker, after putting to flight his "butterflies", acquitted himself creditably. Michael Howard and John Hogan of Fourth Year were judged best by acclamation.

The toast to the Alma Mater having been proposed, Michael Marshall, the School Captain, cut the cake. Brother Norman replied with a few sound words of advice to the school leavers, to which Chris Frost replied with a small gift on behalf of the Leaving Certificate Class. The formal farewell concluded with Brother Lionel reading the Special Prize List.

The Fourth Year Class would like to convey their special thanks to Brother Norman, Brother Lionel, and the Ladies' Auxiliary and to all who helped in any way to make the evening the success it was.

The toast list was as follows:—

Toast to the Leaving Certificate Class

Seconded by: John Hogan.

Reply by: Christopher Frost.

Seconded by: Robert Woog.

Toast to the Alma Mater

Proposed by: Robert Timmins.

THE BLUES AGAIN

At the Paddington Town Hall on the 22nd of October the Blues celebrated their second successive win in the House Competition for study and sport supremacy. Capably organised by Brother Norman and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Parents and Friends' Association the banquet was a great success, thoroughly enjoyed by all. Naturally the hall was bedecked with blue streamers.

After the dinner came the speeches. Michael Marshall, the Captain of the School, as well as of the Greens, congratulated the Blues on behalf of the other Houses. Gary Stanmore, the Blues captain, praised the competing teams for managing to extend his House sometimes. Special reference was made to the fine team spirit of the Blues and to the tireless enthusiasm of Brother Lionel, who was ever ready to volunteer extra competitors for any event.

Brother Norman also congratulated the Blues and urged the other teams to greater efforts next year. Our Headmaster put the final touch to a great day for the Blues when he granted them a half holiday to sleep off any ill effects.

PARENTS & FRIEND'S ASSOCIATION

President: Mr. T. Akhurst.

Vice-Presidents: Messrs. D. G. Simpson and O. Howard.

Secretary: Mrs. T. Akhurst.

Assistant Secretary: Mrs. J. Langdon.

Treasurer: Mr. J. Langdon.

A summary of this year's Annual Report is given below. The report tells of another very successful year.

The painting of the school building was completed by the end of Second Term. On Saturday mornings, under the direction of Brother Peter, and headed by Mr. S. Hardy the Men's Committee, Brothers and boys did valuable work to preserve the building.

The Holden Circle was again run successfully this year with the assistance of the Old Boys' Union. The Hardy family's success in winning the car was a popular result. The Boys' Nights and the Fête also helped by swell the School Funds.

The Ladies' Auxiliary made an early start this year when they engaged in a new venture: the catering for the O.B.U. Communion Breakfast in February. Another first for the Ladies' Auxiliary was the provision of luncheons and afternoon teas for the Brothers during the Seminars held at Darlington during the May holidays. Throughout the whole year the ladies rendered yeoman service at the Mothers' Day Fête, the Boys' Nights and the Fête. In between times they organised their own social gatherings.

From time to time guest speakers were invited to the general meetings of the Parents and Friends' Association. Mr. Gannon from the University of New South Wales spoke on various aspects of university study. Mr. Madigan, representing the Association of Educational Freedom, gave an address to a very interested gathering. Besides speaking on the Wyndham Report, Brother Norman organised a very successful Careers Night at Paddington Town Hall, the details of which have been reported elsewhere in "Blue and Blue".

Sporting and picnic days at Campbelltown and Westmead were very popular and were made more enjoyable this year by the better weather. The Executive Committee are most appreciative of those who helped to make these days a success.

To Brother Norman and the Brothers, the members of the Committee extend their gratitude for the assistance and encouragement afforded them during the year. The Association trust that the inroads they have made into the Brothers' time will be rewarded by another long list of successful examination candidates.

Financial successes are summarised below:

Annual Fête: £680.

Boys' Nights: £750.

Holden Circle: £720.

Mothers' Day Fête: £100.

Football and Athletics Carnivals: £50.

Our hearty good wishes of "Ad Multos Annos" to two of our Old Boy Priests — Rev. J. Murphy, S.M., and Rev. B. Sykes, M.C., who celebrated their Silver Jubilee this year.

Fr. Murphy is teaching at Woodlawn (Lismore) and Fr. Sykes at Downlands (Lismore).

A new Provincial was recently appointed for the Vincentian Fathers — he is Very Rev. Fr. J. K. O'Reilly — to whom we offer our sincere congratulations and best wishes. Father was the Celebrant of the Annual Communion-Breakfast Mass this year, and later spoke to the gathering.

In the 300,000 square miles of the Northern Territory no name is better known than that of Father Frank Flynn, M.S.C.

Frank gave up a lucrative practice in Macquarie St. to become a Sacred Heart Missionary. He belongs to one of Sydney's best known medical families. The son of a doctor, he and his five brothers all graduated in Medicine at Sydney University, and all undertook post-graduate studies. Richard (a surgeon) and John (a dermatologist) are dead. Leo is a leading physician. James, Greg and Frank all took the Diploma of Ophthalmic Medicine and Surgery in London.

Congratulations to Pat Hills — recently appointed Deputy-Premier of N.S.W. In addition to his many duties as the Premier's right-hand man, Pat still continues to do a wonderful job as Minister for Local Government and Highways.

Our congratulations to Mr. Justice Clancy who was awarded the Order of St. Michael and St. George in the Queen's New Year Honour's List. His Honour is Chancellor of the University of N.S.W. and at present Acting Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Yet another of our Old Boys has been made a Judge. This time it is John Ferrari — a Judge in the Workers' Compensation Commission. Our sincere congratulations to John. We know that he, like our other distinguished Old Boys on the Bench, will be a Judge — "and a good Judge, too!"

Wedding bells have rung for two of our very important Old Boys, Don McCallum (President) and Eddie Wing (Secretary). Our very best wishes are extended to them — and also to Warren Castray — married on the same day as Don.

One of the new Queen's Counsel appointed at the end of last year was Cedric Cahill. To quote from the newspaper article — Cedric "has an extensive practice in Common Law of Jurisdiction and has been a member of the Legislative Council since 1954". Our best wishes go out to him for his future success.

Geoff Davey is our representative on the newly-formed branch of the Marist Old Boys' World Federation. Geoff will be a very worthy representative, as his interest in his Alma Mater is still very keen. In addition to his many activities, he has now been made a Director of the "Catholic Weekly".

In Canberra recently there was a meeting of the Australian Water and Waste Water Association. Present were no less than five Old Boys of Darlinghurst:—

E. S. (Sam) Ogg: Government Analyst.

Dr. Mick Flynn: Chief Medical Officer of the Water Board.

Geoff Davey: Well-known Engineer.

Paul Barnes: Of Monier.

Paul Byrne: Representing the Commonwealth Dept. of Works.

Featured in the "Women's Weekly" (July 8, 1964) was our "top tadpole" — Majella Corrigan — daughter of Dr. Ray Corrigan. Ray no doubt will have his little daughter (now 4) ready for the Olympics in 1976!

Denis Condon (L.C., 1950) achieved no little fame as a pianist, but has now been featured in the S.M.H.'s Literary Supplement as a most unusual "collector".

From the S.M.H., 24/10/64 — "Denis Condon is a Sydney Schoolmaster who owns three private time machines . . . those rare and almost forgotten devices, recording pianos. He has three handsome grands now and has worked his way through nine since he started collecting them 15 years ago when he was a school-boy. He has also one of the biggest collections of recording piano-rolls — nearly 4,000 of them."

Bill Kerwin (L.C. 1947) came second in the "Miller's Quest". His prize was about £250 plus the possibility of a singing contract. Also present at the Grand Final function was Kevin Gain (also L.C., 1947) representing the British Motor Corporation. Kevin has been a tower of strength to the Union over the years with his help on publicity matters.

Jim Liddy early this year went overseas to a Hospital Administrators' Conference, the first Australian to be invited to such a Conference.

John Howard (L.C., 1952) was in Sydney for a brief stay in June. He was "covering" the Beatles' Tour of Australia. John has a news-gathering service, with headquarters in Rome, and seems to be forever whipping around the world.

A marathon race in June held special interest for Old Boys — Bob Vagg was the winner and Kevin Morrissey second. Third was the famous Dave Power — also a Marist Old Boy from Maitland.

Neil Griffin was the hero of a dramatic rescue at Narrabeen. Neil swam more than 200 yards to come to the aid of a helpless swimmer caught in the treacherous rip. It took him nearly 2 hours to bring the exhausted young lady to safety.

Well done, Neil.

One Old Boy who will be thankful for Pat Hill's splendid new bridge at Gladesville is Tom Devitt — Chief Chemist at Vacuum Oil. Tom spent many a long spell at the old bridge waiting for the city-flowing traffic to pass.

A welcome visitor to the School during the year was Trevor West (1927-32). Trevor went to South Africa in 1934 — then to the U.K. for a year. He is now in Fiji, working for Fijian Affairs Board in the Native Land Trust Building as Officer-in-charge of Provincial Shipping. If any of the Old Boys should visit Fiji, Trevor will be most pleased to see them and show them around Suva.

Peter McMaugh — who has done so much work on the Old Boys' Committee this year — has been made Research Officer for Grass Research for the N.S.W. Bowling and Golf Associations.

Tom Mullins (L.C., 47) is now at University of N.S.W. preparing a paper for his Ph.D. degree. Recent Old Boys occasionally meet him in his role as a tutor in Chemistry.

John Boyce (L.C., 53) can be seen around the Pyrmont area disguised as the man from Burroughs. John joins Cal Matha (L.C., 48) who has been with this company for some years now.

Bill McMaugh (L.C., 43) is back at the University of N.S.W. undertaking a Business Administration course. Bill has already acquired a B.Sc. Degree and Diplomas in Chemical Engineering and Electrical Engineering.

John Martin (L.C., 49) is entering his final year of Commerce (University of N.S.W.). Our warmest congratulations go to him on his recently announced engagement.

Kevin Wido (L.C., 53) is now living in Wollongong and playing football down there.

R.I.P.

Our sympathy and promise of prayers is extended to the relatives of the following:

Rev. "Toto" Johnstone who died in Paris in April.

Alex Mackay who died in February.

Brian Fraser's father.

Brother Jude's mother.

Tim O'Connor.

Dr. J. A. Lynch.

Bernard Kelly.

Bernard Kelly whose sudden death on the last day of October shocked all who knew him, was one of the old stalwarts of the Old Boys' Union. Since he left the High School in 1911, Bernard was a constant supporter of all things Darlington. He was present at the First Annual Dinner in 1911 and attended his last Old Boys' function at this year's Annual Dinner. To his surviving relatives we extend our deep sympathy.

The Annual Communion Breakfast was held at the School on Sunday, 15th March, 1964. The Mass was celebrated by Father J. O'Reilly at the Sacred Heart Church, Darlington. About 50 Old Boys attended the Breakfast at the school hall. We are grateful to the Ladies' Committee of the Parents and Friends' Association, not only for their splendid catering but also for making the Breakfast a "family" affair.

The revival of the "Blue and Blue Ball" brought a crowd just on 200 to the Hotel Australia on Wednesday, 12th August, 1964. The success of the function was helped to a large extent by the enthusiasm of the younger Old Boys. A word of thanks goes to a group of ladies who offered their helpful advice and suggestions on the running of the Ball.

As in the past few years the Annual Dinner was held at the Catholic Club, this year on Thursday, 1st October. About 90 attended this function, the success of which was due to the large number of Old Boys who sponsored Brothers to the Dinner. The toast to the School was proposed by John Armstrong. Rev. Br. Norman, the present Director, responded.

Golf. The Annual Golf Day was held at St. Michael's on Sunday, 25th October, 26 hit off and had a most enjoyable afternoon.

ANNUAL RETREATS

The Annual Retreats for the secondary classes were held, as usual, at the Sacred Heart Monastery, Kensington. These days of silence allowed all the boys, especially those of the Leaving Certificate Classes, to take time out for some serious thought on their obligations in their final year at school and afterwards.

A Dialogue Mass was celebrated each morning at 11.30, giving each boy a good opportunity of assisting at Mass completely by receiving Holy Communion. On the final day of each Retreat a Question Box session was held so that matters not mentioned in the formal lectures could be thrashed out.

The Brothers and boys of the School are most grateful to the Sacred Heart Fathers and Brothers for their guidance and help during the Retreats.

OBITUARY

Two boys attending the School died during the past year:

Kevin Cook of the Leaving Certificate Class.

Max Ferruga of Form I.

Other bereavements are noted below: Bruno and Lionel Leo lost their father.
