TO OUR LADY

*Dear Mother, in whose eyes I see
All that I would and cannot be,
Let thy pure light for ever shine,
Though dimly, through this life of mine!*

*Though what I dream, and what I do,
In prayer's despite are always two,
Light me, through maze of deeds undone,
O thou whose deeds and dreams are one!*

*And though through mists of strife and tears,
A world away my star appears,
Yet let Death's sunrise shine on me,
Still reaching arms and heart to thee!*

VOCATIONS

The latest name to be added to the long list of Darlington ex-students in the ranks of the clergy is that of Father Patrick McMaugh, who was ordained by His Eminence Cardinal Gilroy in St. Mary's Cathedral on July 19, 1952. Representatives of the School and of the Old Boys' Union were present at the Ordinations.

On the following Wednesday, July 23, we were pleased to welcome Father McMaugh to the school again. He celebrated Holy Mass for the present boys of the High School at 9 a.m. in the Sacred Heart Church, Darlington, and was later welcomed by an assembly of the Brothers and boys in the School Hall.

The Director, Rev. Brother Michael, congratulated the newly ordained priest on having completed successfully his years of training and on having reached the goal which as a boy at Darlington he dreamed of reaching. Brother Michael spoke on the great dignity of the priesthood, and on the many ways in which the priest is the instrument of God's grace, while spending his life in the service of the Master. The present boys of the school were urged to reflect seriously whether God intended them also to be Priests or Brothers; if they were leading lives worthy of being honoured by a vocation, if they were regular and fervent in the reception of the Sacraments, and attended Holy Mass as often as possible, and were trying to please God, and were willing to leave all things to follow Jesus Christ, then they also might be favoured with the grace of a religious vocation.

Congratulations were also offered to the good parents of the newly ordained priest — Mr. and Mrs. E. McMaugh, of 16 The Parade, Dulwich Hill. The four sons of the family, William, Patrick, Bernard and Peter, have all been educated at the Marist Brothers' High School, Darlinghurst, Peter being the present representative of the family on the school roll.

Brother Michael presented Father McMaugh with a complete Rituale Romanum as a memento of the occasion, and, while wishing him every success in his life's work, asked a remembrance in his prayers and Masses for his old school.

Father McMaugh suitably responded, and thanked the Marist Brothers for the training he had received from them, both at Darlinghurst and in the seminary at Springwood. His request that the rest of the day be free for the boys was willingly granted by the Brothers and enthusiastically received by the boys. Before departing, Father McMaugh gave his blessing to the boys individually.

Amongst the visitors to the school for the occasion were Father Patrick's mother, Mrs. E. McMaugh, and several relatives and friends. We were also pleased to have with us for the day Rev. Brother Gerard, so well known to Darlinghurst. Brother Gerard is now stationed at Springwood, and Father Patrick had come under his care there.

OLD BOYS IN THE MARIST BROTHERS

Three former students of the school pronounced their first vows in religion as Marist Brothers on July 2 of this year after completing their Novitiate training. They are Hugh McNamara (Brother Oswald Patrick), Noel Dennis (Brother Arnold George) and Kevin Maguire (Brother Brendan Mary). They are now doing their period of training as teachers.

Early this year Michael Curnow, a member of the 1951 L.C. Class, entered the Marist Brothers' Juniorate at Mittagong. We are delighted to hear good reports of his progress.

OLD BOY TO BE LORD MAYOR OF SYDNEY

Alderman Patrick Hills has been selected by the Labour Caucus of the City Council as their candidate for the position of Lord Mayor to succeed Alderman E. C. O'Dea. A full meeting of the Council will elect the Lord Mayor on December 9th, and, as Labour has a majority on the Council, Alderman Hills is certain to be elected.

At 34, he will be one of the youngest Lord Mayors Sydney has ever had. He became a member of the Sydney County Council and an Alderman of the City Council in 1949. He was elected Chairman of the City Council Committee at the age of 32 and on January 7 of this year he became the first Labour Chairman of the Council.

On behalf of the Brothers and boys of the Marist Brothers' High School, and of the Old Boys' Union, the editors of "Blue and Blue" extend their sincerest congratulations to Alderman Hills on his brilliant career, and on the honour he has achieved in being elected the First Citizen of the City of Sydney.

Alderman Hills received his secondary education at the Marist Brothers' High School, Darlinghurst, leaving school at the end of 1933. An interesting photo of one of the School's representative football teams for that year shows the future Lord Mayor as one of the players; the captain of the team is now Rev. Father E. Paine, of the Sacred Heart Parish, Darlinghurst, while another member is now Rev. Father E. Kelly, M.S.C., Secretary to the Apostolic Delegation.

TO THE MEMORY OF ROD QUINN

The public memorials that are here recorded to our late loyal friend and ex-student, Roderic Quinn, were unveiled in December, 1951, after the "Blue and Blue" for that year had gone to press. Rod's many friends amongst our readers will be pleased to see that the honours paid to our departed poet have now been chronicled in the "Blue and Blue," to which he so often contributed. His friends will also delight in reading again Archbishop O'Brien's oration at the unveiling of the headstone over Rod's grave at Waverley Cemetery. The text here printed is the somewhat condensed one which appeared in "The Bulletin" of 19/12/'51.

Elsewhere in this magazine appears an article (from the Melbourne "Advocate") on another Old Boy poet, the late E. J. Brady, who died this year on July 22. The friendship between the two poets began in their schooldays in the late Brother Wilbred's class. (Another classmate was George Taylor, author of the book of reminiscence, "Those Were The Days.") Their friendship was enduring. After Rod's death, E. J. Brady wrote: "Great Australian poet, civilized gentleman, loyal and tolerant friend. One of the founders of our culture; one of the country's most gifted sons. In 66 years of mateship I never heard him utter a malicious word, and never knew him do a mean thing." There are many who cherish the memory of Roderic Quinn, as E. J. Brady did, and it is to them—the Roderic Quinn Memorial Committee—that we are indebted for the public memorials unveiled last year in his honour.

BUST OF RODERIC QUINN PRESENTED TO PUBLIC LIBRARY OF N.S.W.

On December 7, the then Administrator of the Commonwealth, General Sir John Northcott, presented a copper bust of the Australian poet, Roderic Quinn, to the Public Library of N.S.W. on behalf of the Roderic Quinn Memorial Committee. In making the presentation, he said that Australia did not do enough to honour her great men. In Britain and on the Continent many towns and even villages had memorials to outstanding citizens. Quinn was a noble son of Australia who was able to express charmingly thoughts that other people could not put into words.

The President of the Trustees of the Public Library, Dr. H. V. Evatt, said that Quinn was born in Sydney of Irish parents, and was intensely fond of his native land. He was a member of a group of artists and writers who had helped to make Australia. The youth of Australia today needed the inspiration of writers and artists like Quinn, one of the first Australians to devote his full time to the art of poetry.

Dr. Evatt described the bust, the work of Tom Bass, as an extraordinarily powerful and rugged study.

UNVEILING OF HEADSTONE

A large number of friends and admirers of Roderic Quinn gathered at his grave in Waverley Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, December 2, 1951, for the ceremony of unveiling the headstone over the poet's grave. The headstone had been provided by public subscription. Mr. J. G. McKenzie, Director-General of Education, presided, and the occasional oration was delivered by His Grace, Archbishop Eris O'Brien. His Grace spoke as follows:

"No place more appropriate than Waverley Cemetery could have been selected for this gathering, not only because it gives us opportunity to inspect the fine memorial which citizens have set above a poet's grave, but also because its environment is eloquent of Australian genius and patriotism.

Turn but your gaze and see the graves of men who in their days attained high distinction in the fields of Australian politics, literature and art. Merely to mention their names is like rapidly turning over the pages of a many-volumed history of our land. Here is Deniehy, the fiery idealist who was never sure whether he was destined to be a politician or a satirical pamphleteer. There is Dalley, the exquisite Premier, who was distracted from politics by his cultivated taste for classical literature. And there, beyond, is Archibald, that grand patron of unimportant men with ambitions to write, who provided the opportunity for them to publish their works and incidentally and legitimately profited by their industry.

CONDUCT—STUDY—SPORT AWARDS.

Also, here, in the "God's acre," are several of the makers—they might well be called creators—of Australian song. They are sufficiently numerous to constitute a choir, and indeed, a competent musician could so combine their varied literary ways and themes that their full charms would not be discordant.

Kendall, sedately lyrical in his "songs of stream and forest-wind, tones of wave and harp-like tree." Quinn, with his broader lyricism, measured and coloured by his predilection for the waters of rivers and seas, where "tides gently falling make soft liquid noises." Daley, a singer more expert and delicate and wider in range, gambolling in the way of a flute among them all in "lyrics delicate as lilac-scent, soft idylls woven of wind and flower and stream, and songs and sonnets carven in fine gold."

And also here is Lawson, who is so much more difficult to fit into this lyrical choir that if I try to do it the attempt may work havoc on the metaphor. Nevertheless, though Lawson's real claim to fame rests on prose rather than on verse, his sturdy realistic songs, in which "hobble-chains and camp-ware keep jingling to the tune," must be reckoned as an appropriate atmospheric accompaniment to any chorus that undertakes to sing about Australia.

Though Quinn relished the fresh whiteness of Waverley and its "soft sounds creeping o'er the waves," he resented its loneliness and became disillusioned by evidences that "never more come man or maid" to it to pay tribute to its illustrious dead. Seated on the kerb of Daley's grave he recited* that poet's harsh indictment:

*"They say that fair Romance is dead,
And in her cold grave lying,*

*And do they deem, these fools supreme,
Whose iron wheels unceasing whirr,
That in this rushing age of steam,
There is no longer room for her?"*

*His Grace is here referring to an article by Roderic Quinn which was published in "Blue and Blue" in 1923, with the title "Where Three Poets Sleep." In the article Quinn described an afternoon he spent at Waverley Cemetery; the three poets whose graves he sought were Kendall, Daley and Lawson. (Editor).

That is an old and familiar complaint, found in every age of every nation's literary history. To what extent is it true in Australia?

Let us consider first whether the poets themselves disregard the singers of the past. Now, it is obvious that much modern Australian verse is readily distinguishable from that of earlier periods. In its newer forms it merely reveals a normal development of the art of poetry, responding to the changing outlooks and problems of the age in which it seeks to express itself. Fundamentally it is built upon all the poetic industry of the past, and even in its highest forms of expression, as, for instance, when it is practised by a McCrae or a Neilson or a Slessor or a FitzGerald, it never fails to recognise at least some degree of indebtedness to the patterns set by singers such as Daley and Quinn.

There is no need to make a specialised research to find striking relationships between the writings of both ages. When Quinn fashioned that fine poem, "The Fisher," he walked where you would expect to find him, along the sea-fringes of beaches, and made this line: "On velvet moved the silky, sucking tide." Here, concentrated within seven of the simplest words in our language, are vastness, calm, colour, action and sound, and even silence. "On velvet moved the silky, sucking tide." I have always liked that line, and consequently I hearken back to it whenever I read Kenneth Slessor's rich metaphor of "beaches milked by suck-mouthed tides, foaming with ropes of bubbles." Both are superb, even though the modern, as being more developed, is the stronger of the two.

The poets of the present, as Quinn's illustrious friend, E. J. Brady, has observed today, are not oblivious of the craftsmen who went before them.

I fear, however, that this cannot be said about the general public. Many years ago the people, and even children, were accustomed to read Australian poetry and could recite much of it from memory. Fewer can do that now, which is regrettable, because a people who cannot sing their own songs will never feel the urge, or learn how, to make their own songs. Rather the people will begin to believe, and perhaps they have already begun to believe, that the whining, fatuous and degenerate imported concoctions which now cram the programmes of the commercial broadcasting stations in particular are an appropriate expression of Australian judgments about what our verse and music ought to be.

That situation can be rectified only by a deliberate and laborious counter-effort, which, I believe, should be first attempted, and then concentrated, within our schools. In these schools, much against the inclinations of teachers, but in conformity with the dictates of our commercialised age, a false emphasis has had to be placed upon the utilitarian aspect of education. Such a regime has tended to dull men's perceptiveness of the beauty that is in created things; it has checked his imagination and frustrated his idealism, and quenched his natural inclinations to write in verse or prose. Therefore, and because all the ages of civilisation indicate that these normal and commendable functions and attitudes of human beings—imagination, appreciation of the good and the beautiful, and idealism—are stimulated by poets and poetry, it seems desirable that poets and poetry should be exploited to the fullest extent within the schools, where our citizens are fashioned.

Quinn was not a "Caesar" in Australian life or letters. But he was a splendid craftsman who never lowered the true standards or functions of poetry by becoming vulgar or cheap or merely propagandist. He pursued his uneventful life writing songs because he had to, both because he could not express his feelings and impressions except in song, and because singing was the only trade in which he was competent. But, over and above those motives for writing, he continued to write because the common people appreciated what he wrote.

The Director of the High School, Rev. Brother Michael, B.A., then read the Annual Report, which is here reproduced in part:

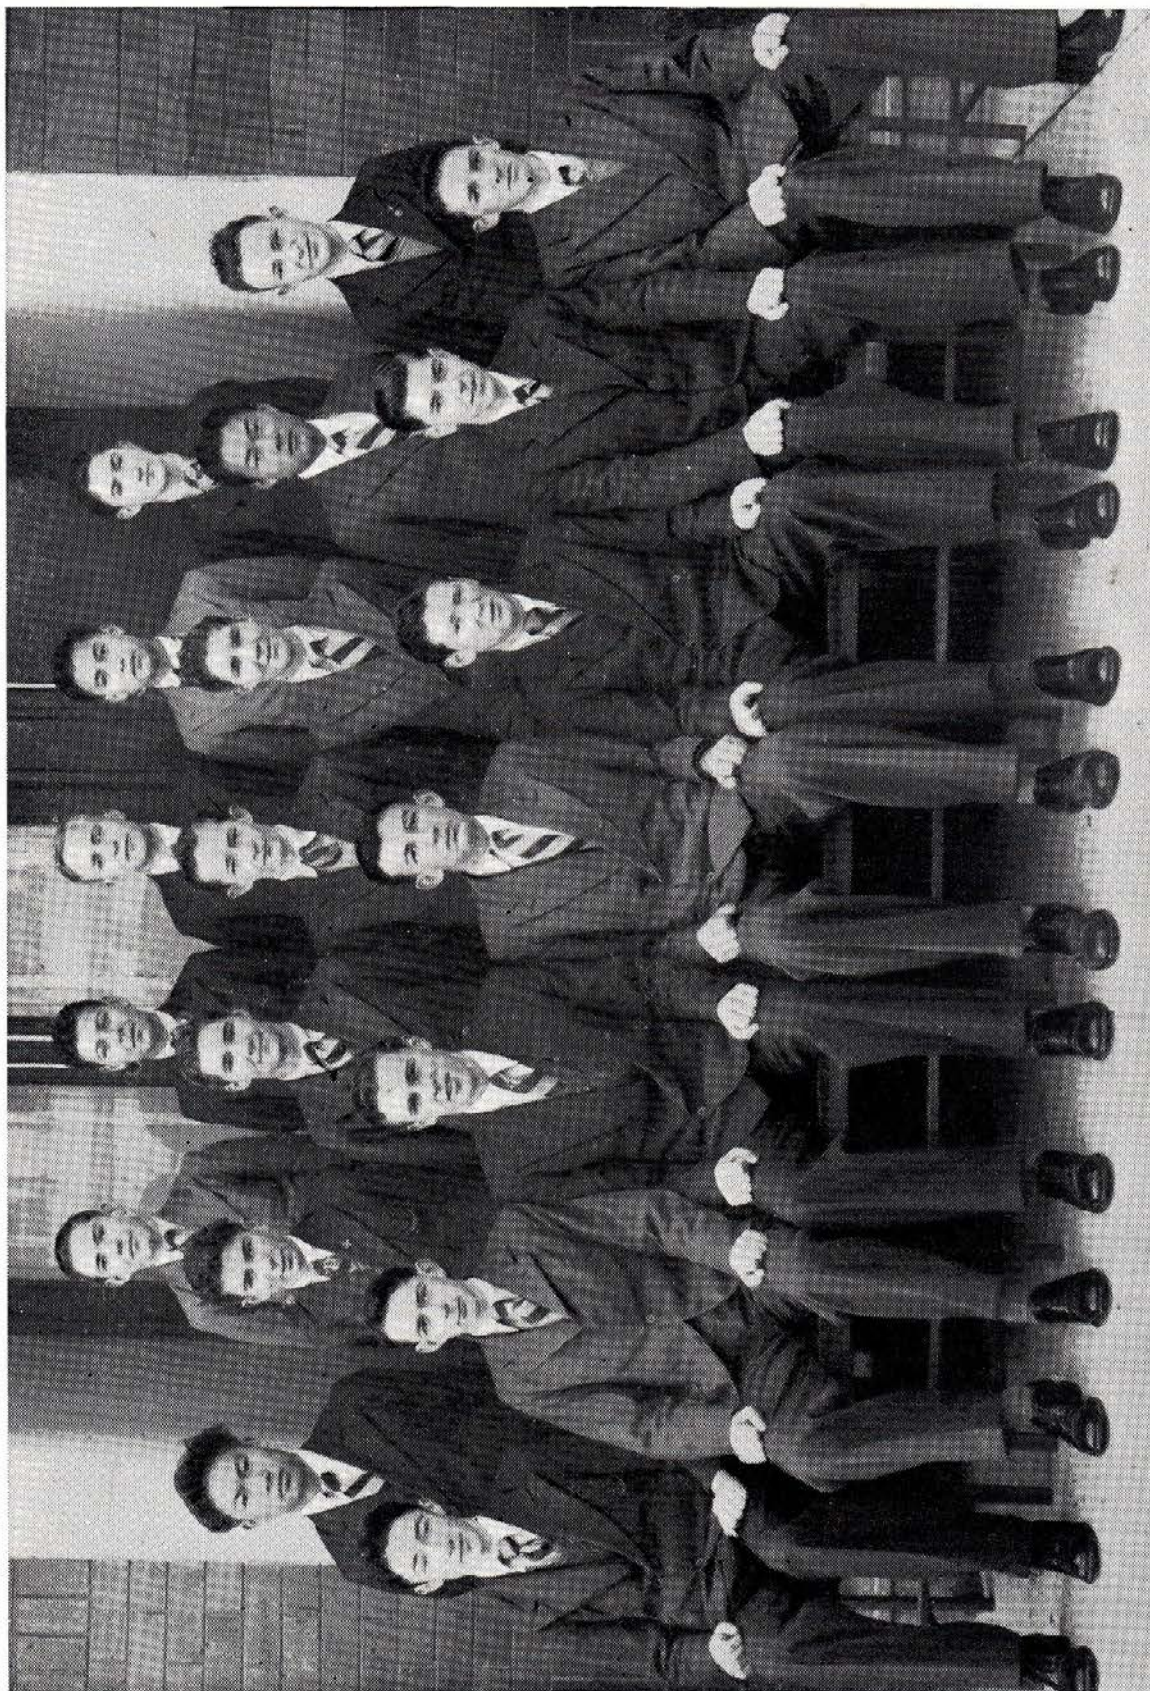

"In presenting the report on the High School for 1951, at the conclusion of the 77th year of the school's existence, I must first record that at the beginning of the year, Brother Edmundus, who had directed the High School for the past three years, was transferred to M.B.C., Randwick, where he is now Headmaster. Brother's work at Darlinghurst was very effective; we wish him well at Randwick, and shall not forget his achievements for this school.

"There were 268 boys enrolled at the school during the year. This is a satisfactory number. We hear very much these days of overcrowded classrooms and lack of school buildings and shortage of staff. Parents should be very gratified to know that at this High School classes are within teachable limits. With classes of between 20 and 30 pupils, the Brothers can give much individual attention, and a boy can feel that his individuality is recognised and respected. Teacher and pupil can become well-known to each other, and the boy, instead of being submerged by mass production methods, can develop his talents and his personality in a spirit of co-operation and personal relationship. Where classes are small, and a boy is by nature timid and lacking in self-confidence, the Brother can give the needed encouragement which means so much in the boy's development. These advantages to be gained from the limited size of our classes make the travelling into Darlinghurst from outer suburbs well worthwhile.

"Boys at this school are very fortunate in having for their use a very fine school building, with spacious classrooms. His Grace, the late Archbishop Kelly, of beloved memory, blessed and opened the school building on July 9, 1911, forty years ago this year. The building was then, and still is, one of the most handsome educational buildings in Sydney, and parents should be pleased to know that their sons now have the benefit of spacious, well-designed classrooms, and do not suffer the disadvantages of overcrowding. We should not be unmindful of those who in the early years of this century erected our school building. We are enjoying the fruits of their labours.

FOURTH YEAR CLASS.

"Twenty-seven boys passed the Leaving Certificate from the school in 1950. Three Exhibitions were won, four Commonwealth Scholarships, and one Scholarship to the Conservatorium of Music. Basil Cameron won an Exhibition in the Faculty of Medicine, passing the Leaving Certificate with A's in all subjects and Honours in Mathematics I and II. Rodney Michael Tracey won an Exhibition in the Faculty of Medicine, passing the L.C. with 5 A's and 1 B, and Honours in Mathematics I and Physics. Kenneth Ryan won a Commonwealth Scholarship, passing the L.C. with 5 A's and 1 B, and Honours in Mathematics I and II. Peter Searle won an Exhibition in the Faculty of Science. Denis Condon won a Scholarship to the Conservatorium of Music.

"It is well to remind students, and their parents, that such success in studies is impossible without a spirit of study. It is the diligent pupil, the pupil who studies methodically and earnestly and consistently who succeeds. Personal effort will overcome difficulties and produce those delights of study which are the reward of the student."

The Report then dealt with school activities during the year, and referred to the ordination of three ex-students and the reception of their Religious Habit as Marist Brothers by three ex-students. Gratitude was expressed to the many benefactors of the school throughout the year.

His Grace the Archbishop then presented the prizes, and addressed the gathering. He spoke of the great history of the High School, from the days in the last century when men like Rod Quinn and E. J. Brady sat at the feet of Brother Wilbred and were inspired with a love for the things of the spirit. He urged parents to make use for their sons of the outstanding educational facilities available at Darlinghurst. The High School, His Grace said, was to be congratulated on the fine number of priestly and religious vocations which were nurtured in it; the need for more vocations was never greater.

A vote of thanks to His Grace was moved by the Hon. Sir Edward McTiernan, K.B.E., and was seconded by the President of the Old Boys' Union, Mr. S. Cusack.

UNIVERSITY MEDALLIST

In the last issue of "Blue and Blue" we had the distinction of recording the success of ex-student John Hallinan in winning the University Medal for Geology. It is accordingly with great pleasure that this year we can again record the winning of a University Medal by an ex-student. The successful student this time is Marq Jackson, who early this year completed a brilliant Law course, gaining First Class Honours in every subject, winning the Evidence Prize, and sharing the University Medal for Law (the faculty's highest award).

Marq Jackson attended M.B.H.S., Darlinghurst, from 1939 until 1945, inclusive—a period of seven years. He obtained his Leaving Certificate in 1945.

His original ambition was to do Engineering, but he changed to Law. His achievement in sharing the University Medal is deserving of more than ordinary congratulations, because it was only with the greatest difficulty that Marq was able to pursue his studies. By dint of hard work, and by making full use of all available time, he triumphed over the difficulties in his way; for this he deserves our very sincere congratulations.

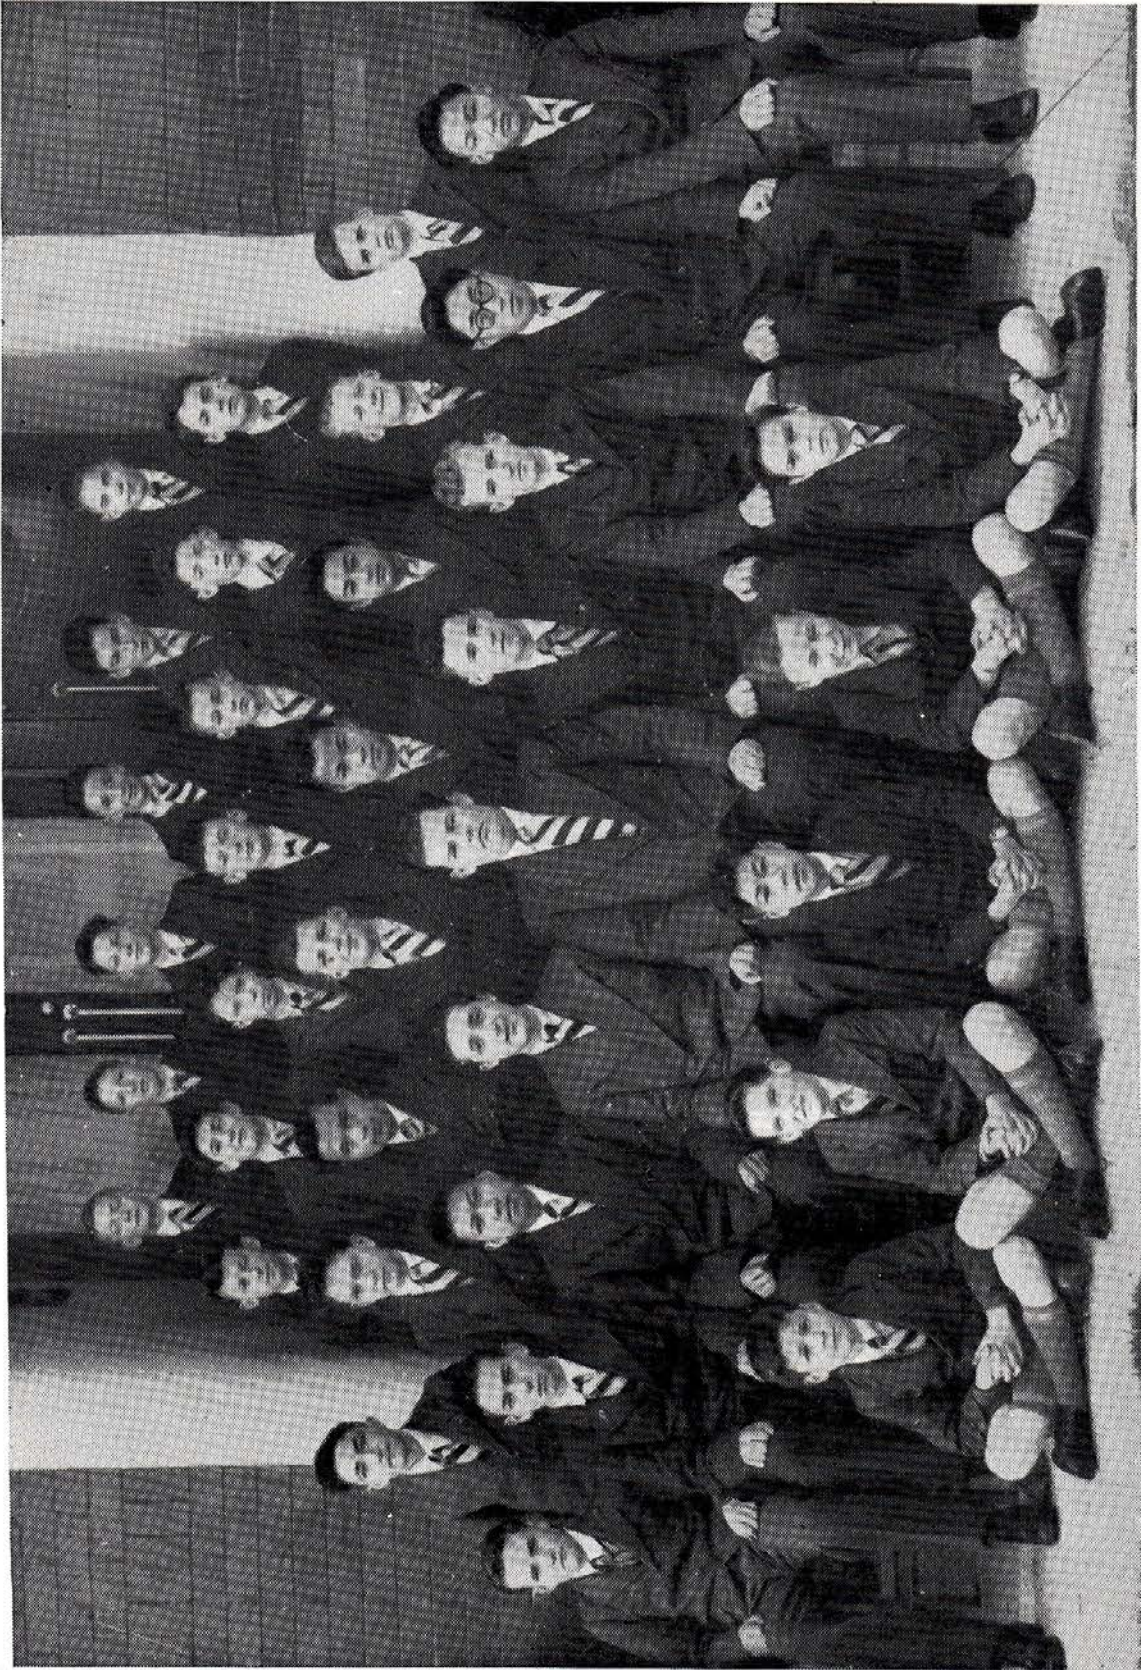

He now begins articles preparatory to becoming a solicitor and hopes eventually to go into partnership with his brother, John, who is still a student. We hope that success continues to reward his efforts.

EDWIN JAMES BRADY

Edwin James Brady died on July 23, 1952. It is fitting that the passing of this outstanding Australian should be recorded here in the annual of the School in which, as a boy, with the late revered Brother Wilbred as guide, he first "travelled in the realms of gold." His name will endure in the history of Australian culture. The prayers of our readers are requested for the repose of the soul of this famous ex-student.

Of the many articles published on E. J. Brady after his death, one of particular interest appeared in the Melbourne "Advocate" of 7/8/52, written by Frank Murphy. I quote at length:

E. J. BRADY, AUSTRALIAN POET AND DEMOCRAT, DIES

E. J. Brady is dead, and with his death there passes from the Australian scene, at the age of 82, all that is mortal of a genuine poet. His poetry will remain, but the man himself, as he was known to a fighting era of democrats in this land of democratic struggle, is no more. For everyone whose heart beats high at the thought of the common people's crusade for social progress, and for everyone who loves poetry and the fine flavour of the English word in our world of letters, the death of E. J. Brady is a grievous loss.

There will not be wanting, these days, tributes to his poetry, a verse written in the atmosphere which inspired the "Bulletin" writers in its hey-day; poets such as Lawson, Paterson, Quinn, Ogilvie and McCrae, but though his work was fired with an Australian love of patria, a way of putting this original idea of the love of country that needs to be distinguished from the shoddy imitation that the word patriotism has come to suggest, he had that larger vision of a world that is wide. It is symbolic, or significant, that one of his most ambitious works, a monumental picture of Australia's resources that took him six years to write, and ten thousand copies of which were sold at two guineas each, was called "Australia Unlimited." He wrote verse that was published under the title of "Bushland Ballads," but his first major volume was "The Ways of Many Waters," which won high praise from John Masefield. These sea ballads have the salty tang of the sea, the real air and rhythm of the chanty. In "The Wool Fleet" there are stanzas such as:

*Have you hearkened to the Nightwind that hath drifted over-sea,
Where the dead men lie a-rocking in their deep graves restlessly?
In their weighted hammocks rotten, on the outer ways forgotten,
On the unremembered inner ways these countless dead men be.*

Yes, men will talk and write of Brady's verse, these days, and will recall his exploits in the social struggle. Already it is said that he was a "confirmed Socialist," secretary of the first Socialist League in Australia, editor of the "Australian Workman," first trade union newspaper in Sydney, but it will be more to our interest here, at the moment, to bring to mind another and an unusual work of Brady's which affords a rare insight into the mind of the man, and furnishes rich examples of his poetic gift, the sweep of his knowledge, the depth of his sympathy, and, withal, some biographical memories that just now have significant value.

In 1934, the year of Melbourne's commemorative centenary celebrations, E. J. Brady wrote for the Library of National Biography (Dominion Series), what he called a monograph on Archbishop Mannix. It was not a biography, though it sketched lightly an outline of the Archbishop's career. Interesting because of its subject, it is doubly interesting because of the author. For it has about it the genuine Brady touch. It has many purple passages, linked as a series of essays, expressing the author's mind on a variety of relevant thoughts, expressed with a poetry, a beauty of phrase that few biographies can claim to possess.

REVEALS HIMSELF

Brady was born in N.S.W., at Carcoar, in 1869, but in this unique book of his he reveals much of himself, and tells us something of beginnings that influenced him in his life. Away back in the early 'eighties, on the return of his parents and himself from the United States, they enrolled him as a pupil in the Marist Brothers' High School, where, he remarks, he sat on the same form with Roderic Quinn. Later, they studied together in the class of Brother Wilbred at the High School. He recalls that he dedicated "River Rovers," one of his travel books, to Brother Wilbred, who "assisted to point my path in literature, and remained my life-long friend."

In the monograph on Archbishop Mannix, Brady, the "Socialist," writes of the Church and of Ireland in a manner that socialists, as they are commonly known, do not commonly understand. Speaking of the triumph of the Idea, of mind over matter, a victory that, to him, was but a matter of time, he says:

"As the Divine Idea of Christianity, expressed among the fisher-folk on the shores of Galilee, by the well of Samaria, in the village homes of Nazareth, triumphed over the greatest power the world has known, the governmental power of Pagan Rome, so does the conquest of right statement seem forever assured."

Regarding culture: "In realms of culture the Roman Catholic Church is forever active. She attaches a special importance to education. Her scholastic systems have everywhere been organised upon definite lines. The tradition of the ecclesiastical schools and colleges of Rome inspires succeeding generations of teachers with a fervid enthusiasm for a life-long labour that begins with the call of the young religieuse and ends only with death."

ROME

Regarding Rome: "Many pilgrimages have, since early Christian times, demonstrated Rome to be the pulsating heart of Christendom. From that great Catholic heart, the blood of Christianity has circulated—going and returning in steady flow.

"Through its arteries and veins the body of the Church is kept sound and whole, and spiritually healthy by the beats of its apostolic heart.

"At Tiber side a beaked galley waits the coming aboard of Caesar—bound, through the pillars of Hercules, to the conquest of Britain!

"Over eighteen centuries later comes a steamship bearing pilgrims from Britain's most distant possession to offer obeisance to a Christian Pontiff in Rome!

"Thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build My Church."

"In the long, long scroll of human history surely no line has been written more important than this. What a picture; what a story; what an epic Catholicism presents to the student! Think of it! Think of the power and might of pagan Rome—its cohorts marching out from Tiber side with proud assurance; its civilians, the meanest of them, consoling themselves with the comforting boast—Civis Romanus Sum—'I am a citizen of Rome.' Not until desperate years was the provincial patrician even permitted to claim that coveted title which a Roman drew over his shoulders as a civic toga that covered his economic nakedness, that amended him for his lack of bread.

"Think of it! Behold this historical picture. See the classic eagles lifted over Pilate's prefecture in Jerusalem! See calm waters of the Lake of Galilee, ruffled by a passing wind, as a little group of fishermen listen attentively to the Word: 'Thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build My Church.'

"There was a promise, there was a guerdon of hope, there was a gauge thrown down by a Divine Champion at the feet of imperial might—before the pavilion of imperial power."

This is not ordinary writing, nor an ordinary passion that moved Brady to pen this purple passage.

Of Ireland he is most lyrical, and the poetry in him comes out in many beautiful pages as he dwells on the little isle's contribution to the culture of the world.

"In the drought of rainless years," he says, "they watered the seeds of future cultural growths with proud tears that sprang from a recollection of the past, from memories and traditions of ancient lore, of olden literature, of an original Gaelic art. With the Irish there is a faith and a belief that this long interregnum is no more than a preparation, a trial, that in the not-distant future a peculiar Celtic people, the Hibernians, the sons and daughters of Inis na Veeva, are destined, are missioned to contribute in still greater measure to the moral and intellectual advancement of the world."

IRELAND

Looking into the past, Brady sees the ancient Ireland in this fine description: "Galloglasses and kerns and men-at-arms are skirting the great peat bogs, fording the rivers, passing through the sacred groves and by the holy wells; lighting their camp fires in the shadows of Slieve Mis—the Mountains of the Moon—setting their sails outward from romantic Hibernian shores. From Persia and Phoenicia the forefathers of these are believed to have come, in the dawn of the world."

The story of this Ireland, says Brady, has a fascination for the literati of the world. He pays tribute to its beauty, to "its peculiar address to imagination, its irresistible appeal to emotion," which, he says, "are like the tones of an Irish harp played in the soft glow of a fireside, when gentle rain is falling over a darkened countryside, and distant hills are veiled in mist." The magic of the music carries one back to a time "when the cradle of the race was rocked by the tender hand of poesy, and the golden words of an ancient lullaby were deftly woven into the sacred fabric of its christening robe."

Magically, with the poet's power, Brady pictures Ireland's sorrowful story, and then remarks: "I, who have so much English blood in my veins, could never, even as a child, listen to that tragic saga of human misery without anger and tears. It has haunted me like an accusing ghost throughout the years."

These are the things Brady writes in his admiring, remarkable tribute to the Archbishop of Melbourne. Perhaps the eulogies now being written upon the dead poet and social agitator will miss the poetry and social thought and those other revealing things that shine brilliantly in this work which he wrote so fully from his heart.

E. J. Brady's life was that of an adventurer. "He had adventure in his blood. His father, an Irishman, fought against Indians in America, Southerners in the American Civil War, and hunted whales in the Arctic and Pacific, and bushrangers in Australia."

As a very young boy he had gone to North America with his father. "I crossed it from 'Frisco to Washington D.C.," he wrote, "when the cowboys were still bringing their herds up from Texas. The Old Man saw them with me, spreading over the Western plains, 20 years after he had seen the same plains covered with buffalo. In my time out West the train sweepers carried two guns slung low and bowie knives in their boots."

It was on his return to Australia at the age of eleven that he enrolled at the Marist Brothers' High School.

After leaving school he worked as a clerk in a wool store for a short period. He was precipitated into the emerging Labour movement when, on refusing to become a special constable in the great maritime strike, he was immediately dismissed. His school friend, A. G. Taylor, writes of the occasion in his book of reminiscence, "Those Were The Days": "He became a wild leader in the great Sydney maritime strike, which was the beginning of the Labour movement in Australia. It was practically the start of the greatest electoral reforms the world has ever seen. And Ned was behind their advocacy; in fact, he was a material factor in their shaping, as he edited, when only 22 years of age, the Labourer's Bible—"The Australian Workman," and afterwards edited "The Worker"."

Brady's constant association with seafaring men led to the publication of his first book of sea songs and chanties, "The Ways of Many Waters," in 1899. He had started writing in the "Bulletin" in 1891, and, indeed, he continued writing for it until a few years ago.

H. M. Green says in "An Outline of Australian Literature" that none of the other balladists had Brady's "outstanding vitality." "He makes one smell the salt and the tar, and the sea-wind roars through his lines," says Green, who believes "Lost and Given Over" is one of the finest English sea ballads. His books of poetry include "Bushland Ballads" (1910), "Bells and Hobbles" (1911), and "The House of the Winds" (1919).

But lively and popular as the sea ballads are—and Masefield praised them—the bush ballads also must not be over-

THE SODALITY OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary has now for a long time been one of the main influences in the training of the Senior boys of the School in Devotion to the Blessed Virgin. At the same time it emphasises the need for the practice of piety and trains the Sodalist in his duties as a loyal member of the Church.

The Sodality meets on Friday afternoon, and the feature of every meeting is the recitation by the Sodality of The Little Office of the Immaculate Conception. It is hoped that the members of the Sodality will never forget "these praises and prayers" which they recite with so much devotion and pleasure at school. The text of the Office is easily memorised, and extracts readily recur to mind as suitable ejaculatory prayers in honour of the Mother of God. What is there to prevent Sodalists from continuing the weekly recitation of the Office after they have left school?

The President of the Sodality this year was James Wright. The other members to be elected to the Council were Peter McMaugh, John Small, Brian Kelly and William Stafford.

The Missions Group, under John Nesbitt, was particularly enthusiastic; practical support was given to the Missions, and interest in the Missions was aroused amongst the Sodalists. Information about the Missions was always eagerly accepted. Members of the Group corresponded with Missionaries in the Pacific and in India. To raise funds for the Missions, sales of stamps were conducted by the Group, and stamp collectors found they had great variety to select from.

Paul Mitchell, William Cramsie and Darryl Hackett were amongst the members of the Lives of the Saints Group who delivered talks to the Sodality.

Colin Driscoll and William Slapp saw to it that all the boys in the School were able to obtain Rosary Beads. Other members of their group displayed on the notice boards information regarding Our Lady and the Rosary.

A departure from the usual routine was made this year for the Annual Retreat. It was held at the Sacred Heart Monastery, Kensington, instead of at the School, as in previous years. This change enabled the retreatants to profit even more fully from the exercises of the Retreat. The use of the Monastery Chapel and grounds was given to the boys through the generosity of Dr. Morris, M.S.C., and the Sacred Heart Fathers; we are most grateful for the arrangements for the Retreat made by the Sacred Heart Fathers. The Retreat Preacher was Rev. Father McMahon, M.S.C. His lectures to the boys were always interesting and full of sound advice. At the close of the Retreat, Father enrolled the new members of the Sodality.

May the protection of Our Heavenly Mother be never wanting for those members of the Sodality who are about to leave school. May they always be mindful of their consecration as Children of Mary.

looked. They seem perhaps to have more force today than most of the seafaring rhymes. They are Australian in setting, and in them Brady was putting down freshly and exactly what he himself saw and felt in this country. The Bulletin (30/7/52) comments: "There's a large and genial love for Australia, scenes and people alike, in these bush verses, and it may well be that in the long run Brady will amble to immortality on horseback rather than sail on the sea winds. But whatever posterity selects from his big output of verse and prose to remember him by, it is certain to have that robust and unaffected manliness which characterises all Brady's writing: a sturdy expression of the ardent Australianism of the 'Nineties."

Brady's last years were spent at Malla-coota, Victoria. He had been ill for two years before his death. A bad heart resulted in dropsy. He died, two weeks off becoming 83, still mentally active, in Pambula Hospital (N.S.W.).

He was one of the last links (Australia mourns this year also the death of William Morris Hughes) with the days when the world was wide—with the romantic, hopeful, acutely nationalistic Australia of the Nineties, when Australian art, literature and politics all had a flowering, never since repeated.

Amongst the many distinguished visitors to the parish for the occasion were many Old Boys of the High School, notably the Most Rev. John Toohey, D.D., Coadjutor-Bishop of Maitland, and many Old Boy Priests. The Sacred Ministers at the Mass of Thanksgiving which began the centenary celebration were all Old Boys of the High School; we are indebted to the "Catholic Weekly" again for the picture of them which is reproduced on this page. The present boys of the High School attended the functions, and the Senior Cadets provided a Guard of Honour for His Grace, Archbishop O'Brien, who presided at the opening and concluding ceremonies. At the request of His Grace a holiday was granted to the school children in the parish.

The outstanding success of the centenary was a tribute to the organising ability of the Parish Priest, Very Rev. Monsignor T. O. Wallace.

The history of the Darlinghurst Parish is of more than local interest, and "John O'Brien" (Rt. Rev. Monsignor P. Hartigan) has charmed his many readers with his account of it—"On Darlinghurst Hill"—which was published for the centenary.

The following account of the celebration of the centenary of the Sacred Heart Parish, Darlinghurst, is taken from the "Catholic Weekly" (5/6/'52).

The biggest parochial celebrations held in Sydney for many years took place at Darlinghurst on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 30—June 1, when the centenary of the opening of the first parish church was commemorated with religious ceremonies and social functions.

Keynote of the celebrations was thanksgiving to God for the blessings bestowed on the parish during the past century, coupled with prayerful remembrance of the dead.

Three Bishops, 30 monsignori and more than 100 priests joined the parish priest of Darlinghurst (Very Rev. Monsignor T. O. Wallace), his assistant priests and the people of Darlinghurst in the celebrations.

Among the clergy present were 47 priests who had formerly been attached to the parish.

His Grace, Archbishop O'Brien, presided at the opening and concluding ceremonies of the Triduum. Also present were their Lordships, the Most Rev. Patrick Francis Lyons, Auxiliary Bishop to His Eminence the Cardinal, and the Most Rev. John Toohey, Coadjutor-Bishop of Maitland and an ex-student of the Marist Brothers' High School, Darlinghurst.

Many former parishioners returned to Darlinghurst for the Mass of Thanksgiving on the Friday.

Among them was the mother of the celebrant and the sub-deacon, the Rev. Fathers Maurice and Edmund Downey, and the mother of the deacon (Rev. Father J. J. Harper, D.D., of the Wagga Diocese).

EARLY BENEDICTINES

The occasional sermon at the Mass of Thanksgiving was preached by the Diocesan Archivist, the Very Rev. Monsignor J. J. McGovern, P.P.

Reviewing the work of the early Benedictines in Sydney, Monsignor McGovern said that Archbishop Polding had been sent "as another Moses" to free his people from bondage and lead them towards the land of promise.

From Darlinghurst Hill the patriarchal Archbishop could behold his vision of Catholic Australia, but like Moses, Dr. Polding was not destined to see the fulfilment of all his dreams. In his declining years, the Archbishop accepted the hospitality of Darlinghurst and from there went to his account in the grand tradition of those who are close to God.

Archbishop Vaughan, who succeeded Dr. Polding, directed the battle for the survival of Catholic education and it was on Darlinghurst Hill on the day that the foundation stone of the school was laid that he took up the challenge thrown down by the Government and pledged his fellow Catholics to maintain and advance the Catholic education of children of the years to come.

MASS FOR DEAD

Catholic education to-day, Monsignor McGovern said, was in an unassailable place, thanks to the courage of that great prelate who made his stand on Darlinghurst Hill.

Mass for the dead on Saturday was celebrated by the Rev. Father B. Hudson, with the Rev. Father W. J. Paine (Adm., Mount Carmel) as deacon; the Rev. Father J. McCarthy, P.P. (Belmore), sub-deacon, and the Rev. Father H. J. Kennedy as master of ceremonies.

HIERARCHY PRESENT

The church was crowded again for the concluding ceremonies on Sunday night. Those unable to enter the church were accommodated in the adjoining school hall, where they heard the prayers and sermon amplified through loud-speakers.

His Grace, Archbishop O'Brien, presided. With him in the sanctuary was His Lordship, Bishop Lyons.

In the front pews were ten monsignori, including the Vicar-General, the Right Rev. Monsignor R. Collender, P.P. Many former assistant priests at Darlinghurst and representatives of religious orders were also present.

Solemn Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given by Archbishop O'Brien, who carried the Monstrance in a Eucharistic procession.

His Grace also intoned the "Te Deum," the Church's official prayer of thanksgiving.

The occasional sermon was preached by the Rev. Father John Byrne, P.P. (Surry Hills), who was born, baptised and made his first Communion in the Darlinghurst parish.

In the whole history of Australia, Father Byrne said, there were no more stirring pages than those which portrayed the sacrifices and the generosity of the pioneer Catholics on behalf of their Faith.

In the history of the Catholic Church in Sydney no parish had played a more interesting, prominent and important part than Darlinghurst.

MATERIAL PROGRESS

The material progress was obvious, Father Byrne said, but the spiritual development was more important.

He reminded the congregation of the magnificent traditions of the parish, of the thousands of Masses that had been offered, of the hundreds of thousands of Holy Communions received, of the myriad prayers offered, of the continuous honour paid to the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

SENIOR CADET UNIT

All members of the Unit were very disappointed at the beginning of the year when they found that Brother Oswin, who had done so much for the Unit in 1951, had still not recovered from his serious illness and would be unable to direct the Unit during 1952. In his place we were very pleased to welcome Mr. Vincent Hallinan, an Old Boy of the School and an experienced member of the St. George Regiment. The Brothers and the cadets wish to express their very sincere appreciation to Mr. Hallinan for the great assistance he has been to them. At great personal inconvenience he gave liberally of his time to improve the standard of the Unit, and without his aid it would have been very difficult for the Unit to have functioned at all. His enthusiasm for the Cadet movement and his loyalty to his School were very evident in all he did, and the Cadets profited greatly from his example and his instruction.

We were fortunate in having experienced Officers and Senior N.C.O.'s in the Unit. The Adjutant, Cdt./Lt. Brian Kelly, had filled that position in the previous year and was thus enabled to carry out his duties this year very creditably. Three cadets had passed the Potential Officers' Course in the previous December, and early in the year Robert Byrne and Peter McMaugh were promoted to the rank of Cadet-Lieutenant. John Nesbitt had also qualified for that promotion, and, pending a vacancy, was promoted to the rank of Sergeant. William Stafford had passed the N.C.O.'s Course in December, and was also promoted to the rank of Sergeant. James Wright was appointed W.O.2 for the current year.

ANZAC DAY

The Unit again took part in the impressive ceremonial attached to the solemn commemoration of Anzac Day at the Sacred Heart Church, Darlinghurst. The Catafalque Party and the Guard carried out their duties with steadiness and dignity; the Buglers also performed well and added to the impressiveness of the occasion. The Cadets also paraded at the Sacred Heart Church, Darlinghurst, on the occasion of the Centenary Celebrations of the Darlinghurst Parish, in the presence of His Grace, Archbishop O'Brien, and visiting Bishops and Clergy.

SPECIALIST COURSES

During the First Term holidays, Cpl. J. Pass and Gdt. D. Towson were successful in passing the Specialist Course for the 3-inch Mortar. The course was conducted at Holsworthy.

ANNUAL CAMP

The Annual Camp was held this year in the Second Term holidays at Singleton. The Camp arrangements were very satisfactory indeed, and, being blessed also with splendid weather, the Cadets spent a most enjoyable ten days in camp. Nothing but high praise was heard from the Cadets on the subject of the catering. For many of the Cadets it was the first time they were away from home, and it proved to be a most pleasant and educative experience.

Mr. Hallinan was indefatigable in conducting training exercises throughout the period of the Camp, and his night training manoeuvres proved very popular. We must again express our thanks to him.

The success of the Camp must be attributed, to a very large extent, to the presence of Rev. Brother Norbert, O.C. of the Marist Brothers' Parramatta Cadet Unit. Brother Norbert is always interested in Darlinghurst, and his assistance to us in camp was a very practical proof of that interest. He gave up his holiday to assist in the running of the Camp, and his efficiency in organisation, his devotedness to the cause, and his kindly interest in every boy will not be forgotten by those who were in camp with him. Our thanks to him are very sincere indeed.

Brother Norbert arranged a very pleasant banquet on the last night, as a happy conclusion to the Camp. Officers and Cadets of the Darlinghurst Unit and of the Christian Brothers' High School, Paddington, Unit were present. Cdt./Lt. Brian Kelly was President. Brother Michael, Director of the Marist Brothers' High School, Darlinghurst, who was present at Singleton for the last three Brother Norbert and Brother Zeising also addressed the boys.

W.O. James Wright deserves commendation for his constant devotion to duty throughout the Camp period, as his task was not an easy one; he showed commendable judgment in dealing with the varied situations that arose.

We were fortunate in having Captain W. J. Mahoney in charge of our Block in the Camp; we appreciate his interest in our welfare.

CEREMONIAL PARADE

This year the Passing-out Parade was held at the Rushcutters Bay Oval on October 9. It was an admirable setting for the parade, and a sunny afternoon helped towards its success. We were honoured to have our distinguished Old Boy, Brigadier F. B. Hinton, M.C., E.D., to inspect the Unit and to present the prizes. Lt./Col. J. P. O'Sullivan,

FIRST XI

Joint Premiers in M.C.C. "A" Grade

This year's First Eleven were co-premiers with Christian Brothers' High School, Lewisham.

The members of the team, and their coach—Brother Wilbred—are to be congratulated on a very successful season.

R. Byrne capably captained the side, besides scoring 277 runs and taking 29 wickets.

J. Nesbitt was another particularly useful member of the team, scoring 122 runs and taking 24 wickets.

B. Thornton helped considerably towards the premiership by his splendid wicket-keeping and his aggressive batting. He scored 173 runs.

B. Cooper was easily our best spin bowler, taking 17 wickets. In his batting, Brian displayed some very polished strokes and averaged 22.

K. Maittlen, a reliable batsman, added 98 runs to our totals. Many batsmen found themselves in difficulty when playing his leg breaks.

K. Huggett, a fast left-arm bowler, took 11 wickets for 88 runs.

P. McMaugh, averaging 19, did well as an opening batsman. Peter is also a useful bowler.

L. Trainor batted quite attractively to end the season with an average of 12.

W. Stafford, one of our best fieldsmen, proved himself a useful batsman by averaging 11.

K. Riolo was one of the opening batsmen, and the experience gained this year should be of great assistance, as Kevin is in Third Year.

A. Khan, an accurate left-arm bowler, often thrilled us with his spectacular fielding.

R. Chue showed himself to be a first-class slips fieldsmen.

P. Teerman did some useful bowling at the end of the season, taking 4 wickets for 8 in our last match.

Results:

M.B.H.S.D. v. MARRICKVILLE

(Won outright)

Marrickville totalled 52. K. Huggett took 4 for 19; B. Cooper, 2 for 5; K. Maittlen, 2 for 7. Our first innings was closed at 2 for 90 (R. Byrne 52, A. de Montfort 37).

Marrickville scored 60 in their second innings (J. Nesbitt, 5 for 10). We scored the necessary 23 runs for an outright win with the loss of two wickets.

M.B.H.S.D. v. LEWISHAM

(Won on first innings)

The excellent bowling of R. Byrne (7 for 18) and P. McMaugh (3 for 26) dismissed Lewisham for 57. With the score at 6 for 79, Darlinghurst declared (R. Byrne 41). Lewisham totalled 115 in their second innings, leaving us 94 runs to get for an outright win. When stumps were drawn we were 3 for 59.

M.B.H.S.D. v. ASHFIELD

(Lost on first innings)

We batted first and made 192 (R. Byrne 97, B. Cooper 38). It soon became apparent, however, that this total was not high enough, and, by careful batting, Ashfield took their score to 8 for 208.

M.B.H.S.D. v. STRATHFIELD

(Won on first innings)

Taking 7 for 14, R. Byrne was mainly responsible for the collapse of Strathfield's batsmen, who scored 58 runs. We began disastrously, and had lost 4 for 8. Brian Thornton came to our rescue, however, with careful batting, scoring 84 in a very fine innings. Luke Trainor (16), Keith Maittlen (32), Brian Cooper (17) and John Nesbitt (14) enabled us to take our score to 186 runs.

At stumps Strathfield had lost 4 for 44 in their second innings.

M.B.H.S.D. v. RANDWICK

(Lost on first innings)

In this game we were beaten on the first innings by only 2 runs, and then, to increase our disappointment, we would have needed only one more over to have gained an outright victory.

Randwick batted well to score 134 in their first innings (J. Nesbitt, 5 for 34; K. Maittlen, 3 for 19). Although we were 5 for 104, our tail-enders failed and we were out for 132.

Randwick collapsed for 37 in their second innings, owing to the excellent bowling of R. Byrne (5 for 14) and J. Nesbitt (3 for 22).

Batting against time, we scored 23 runs in the first over. When the last over began we needed 17 runs for an outright win, but managed only 13.

M.B.H.S.D. v. KOGARAH

(Won on first innings)

Kogarah totalled 139 runs (B. Cooper, 4 for 48, and K. Huggett, 2 for 14). We declared at 6 for 141 (R. Byrne 42, P. McMaugh 39, B. Thornton 28).

M.B.H.S.D. v. RYDE

(Won outright)

Ryde made 46 in their first innings.

We declared at 1 for 109 (J. Nesbitt 53, K. Maittlen 45). In their second innings Ryde again scored 46. Our best bowlers in this match were R. Byrne, 5 for 12; P. Teerman, 4 for 8, and J. Nesbitt, 4 for 14.

We thus ended the season joint premiers with C.B.H.S., Lewisham, whom we congratulate on their success.

B GRADE CRICKET TEAM.

BACK ROW: W. Cramsie, B. Power, J. Greaves, B. Ogg, B. Kelly, P. Mitchell.
SEATED: J. Keeble, C. Moroney, P. Teerman (c.), R. Chue, J. Pass.
IN FRONT: P. Teerman (scorer).

SECOND XI

With rather a weak batting and bowling side, the team was not able to carry off any victories this year. The closest to victory was in the last match of the season against the premier-ship team, Kogarah. With Darlinghurst 179 and Kogarah 8 down for 128, the match was abandoned owing to heavy rain which rendered the pitch unusable.

Although all members of the team contributed their share of the teamwork in their fielding, a large section of the honours must go to Peter Teerman and Brian Kelly, who were consistently called upon to bowl and who used their ability to gain many wickets.

John Pass, a consistent scorer with the highest batting average and aggregate, was justly awarded the batting honours. William Cramsie and Peter Teerman also raised high scores for the season.

RESULTS OF GAMES

Marrickville, 59 and 162 (B. Kelly, 4 for 32; B. Power, 4 for 22) defeated Darlinghurst, 72 and 125 (J. Pass 58, P. Teerman 38, G. Smith 42).

Lewisham, 138 (P. Teerman, 3 for 21; G. Smith, 2 for 10; J. Keeble, 2 for 12; B. Kelly, 3 for 41) defeated Darlinghurst, 85 (P. Teerman 28, A. Khan 22).

Ashfield, 100 and 126 (B. Ogg, 3 for 31; P. Teerman, 4 for 46; J. Keeble, 2 for 26) defeated Darlinghurst, 63 and 87 (W. Cramsie 34, J. Pass 28).

Strathfield, 222 (B. Kelly, 4 for 44; W. Cramsie, 1 for 28) defeated Darlinghurst, 122 (R. Chue 50, J. Keeble 19 n.o.).

Randwick, 47 and 115 (P. Teerman, 8 for 19; B. Power, 3 for 7; W. Cramsie, 1 for 8; B. Kelly, 2 for 22) defeated Darlinghurst, 26 and 104 (J. Pass 40, W. Cramsie 35).

Kogarah, 8 for 128 (P. Teerman, 5 for 38; B. Ogg, 1 for 9; C. Moroney, 1 for 11) drew with Darlinghurst, 179 (B. Kelly 33, R. Chue 32, P. Teerman 31).

Congratulations to Kogarah on winning the premiership.

UNDER 14 CRICKET TEAM.

BACK ROW: K. Baker, L. Woodley, W. Barry, D. Ryan, D. Alfano, S. Browne, E. Cramsie.
SEATED: A. Minogue, T. Akhurst, A. Hynes (c.), F. Harvey, J. Allen.

UNDER 14 ELEVEN

This year we could only manage two victories in the seven games. The most successful member of the team was Denis Ryan, who headed both the batting aggregate and averages, as well as taking the most number of wickets for the best bowling average. Denis opened the attack for us and from 100 overs he took 40 wickets at an average of 7.6 runs per wicket. After two seasons in the team Denis has now bowled 146 overs, taking 55 wickets at an average of 8.4 runs per wicket.

The team was captained by Tony Hynes, who often played a real captain's innings with his solid batting when wickets were falling quickly. Against Marrickville he was at the wicket one and a half hours while eight wickets fell before he declared. Against Ryde he succeeded in doing the "hat-trick," showing his usefulness as a change bowler.

Tony Minogue was the team's best fieldsmen.

Stan Browne and Dominic Alfano, our wicket-keeper, were both prominent in the batting aggregates. Young members of the team showed that they had benefited from their first season in the competition, especially Adrian Cannon, Jim Peoples, Les Woodley, Tom Akhurst, and our spin bowlers, Kevin Baker and Frank Harvey.

Congratulations to Kogarah on their winning premierships team.

A GRADE FOOTBALL TEAM.

BACK ROW: P. Teerman, R. Byrne, B. Ogg, J. Nesbitt, B. Kelly, P. Warrilow, C. Moroney.
SEATED: W. Akhurst (Ball-boy), S. Khan, P. McMaugh, C. Driscoll (c.), J. Wright, W. Stafford, B. Cooper (Linesman).
IN FRONT: R. Chue.

FOOTBALL

The A grade football team is to be congratulated on the high standard of play throughout the year. The forwards were a particularly big pack, and shone in every game. With their powerful support, the team was always difficult to defeat. Every game was closely contested. Our congratulations go to D.L.S.C., Marrickville, on winning the Open Premiership for 1952.

Colin Driscoll captained the team very capably, and was a most successful hooker.

The work of the forwards was particularly pleasing; Brian Ogg, John Nesbitt, Jim Wright, Peter Warrilow and Bill Stafford were conspicuous.

Unfortunately injuries and replacements were frequent with the backs. B. Neil, R. Chue, B. Kelly, P. Teerman, C. Moroney, R. Byrne, K. Huggett, A. Khan, M. Yip and P. McMaugh all represented as backs.

We particularly appreciated the excellent and generous coaching given us by Mr. G. Boyd.

DARLINGHURST 11 v. ASHFIELD 3.

We opened the season with a good exhibition of football. R. Byrne, 2 tries, 1 goal; J. Nesbitt, 1 try.

DARLINGHURST 4 v. LEWISHAM 5.

In a very thrilling game at Snape Park, Lewisham were victorious by one point. R. Byrne, 2 goals.

DARLINGHURST 8 v. STRATHFIELD 12.

This was another game in which the result was in doubt until the final bell. R. Byrne, 1 try, 1 goal; R. Chue, 1 try.

DARLINGHURST 4 v. RANDWICK 9.

Although we attacked Randwick for most of the game, we could not break through their defence. R. Byrne, 2 goals.

DARLINGHURST 7 v. KOGARAH 2.

After a very even game we defeated Kogarah by five points. R. Byrne, 1 try, 2 goals.

DARLINGHURST 33 v. RYDE 2.

Our scorers were: R. Byrne, 2 tries and 6 goals; P. Teerman, 2 tries; R. Chue, 1 try;

B. Ogg, 1 try. The team gave their best exhibition of quick passing movements.

DARLINGHURST 0 v. MARRICKVILLE 12.

Marrickville scored all their points in the first few minutes, after which neither side could break through.

"B" GRADE

Our team this year consisted of very light, young and inexperienced players. Though they were not successful, the team can look back on a season of hard, exciting matches in which they willingly gave of their best. We congratulate the Premiers, C.B.C., Lewisham.

THE EIGHT STONE TEAM JOINT PREMIERS 1952

The Eight Stone Team completed a victorious season, being Joint Premiers with Strathfield and Lewisham.

In the early trial games it was evident that we had the players who could develop into a winning combination. The team's success was based upon good hard tackling, for only 17 points were scored against us during the competition. The team was fortunate to have Brian Thornton as the experienced captain in the five-eighth position. Brian gave a grand example in defence and intelligently brought his backline into position to score most of the team's 121 points for the season. Sid Davies, the vice-captain, at inside centre proved an invaluable player whose deadly tackling, swerving runs and unselfish play have stamped him as a first-class player. Both Brian and Sid were judged as the team's best backs for 1952.

B GRADE FOOTBALL TEAM.

BACK ROW: G. Smith, S. Browne, D. Alfano, M. Yip.

MIDDLE ROW: R. Scott, D. Ryan, J. Powell (timekeeper), K. Walker, K. Huggett.

SEATED: B. Walker, K. Honeyman, K. Maittlen, R. Martin (c.), A. Nesbitt, J. Boyce, J. Pass.

The forwards were a fast, hard-rucking combination. Barry Power, as lock, was the outstanding forward. His hard tackling and speed, together with his intelligent play, were outstanding features in every game. In the second row we had one of the team's best combinations in John Chippendale and Les Woodley. Both distinguished themselves as hard-rucking forwards. Kevin Riolo was the team's chief scorer. In the competition he scored 7 tries and 14 goals, making a total of 49. In addition he was one of our best and fastest forwards.

The team is to be congratulated on winning the Premiership. We have usually looked to our open grade teams to win any Premiership honours; it is a very welcome change to see success coming to one of our teams in the weight divisions.

Darlinghurst won six of the seven competition games.

Results:—

Darlinghurst 25 d. Ashfield 0 (S. Davies 2, B. Power 2, J. Allen, L. Woodley, R. Bradbury, tries; K. Riolo, 2 goals).

SEATED: P. Smith, R. Renaud, F. Harvey, A. Cannon (c.), C. Hennessy, N. Gardner, J. Patterson.

SIX-STONE TEAM

With the exception of the team from Ashfield, whom we congratulate as premiers, the six-stone teams from the various Colleges of the Association were of much the same standard. As the scores indicate, the games were strongly contested and the Darlinghurst players were unfortunate in that they were beaten on several occasions by a narrow margin.

All players are to be congratulated on their fine team spirit and the determination with which they played the games. Among the best players could be placed the Captain, Adrian Cannon, who, as the outstanding back for the team, played as five-eighth, from which position, with fine kicking and hard tackling, he was an inspiration to the rest of the team.

Richard Renaud (chosen as best forward for the season), as hooker, and Gregory Lee, as lock, showed ability as sturdy forwards. Noel Gardiner showed great promise as half.

ATHLETICS

The 37th Annual Athletic Meeting of the Marist Brothers' High School was held at Rushcutters Bay Oval on Wednesday, August 20, in very threatening weather. Rain throughout the day caused us to omit some of the novelty events, but all the more important events were completed.

The House competition was evenly contested, the Greens, captained by Brian Kelly, winning with 580 points from the Blues (567), the Reds (535) and the Golds (395).

The Shield for the Champion Senior Athlete was won this year by Peter McMaugh. He also established a record for the Mile by winning that event in 5 mins. 9.1 secs., on a very heavy track. His time for the Mile at the M.C.C. Combined Sports, where he won the event with a well-judged run, was 4 mins. 59.2 secs. He also won the 880 yards event at the M.C.C. Sports.

The Ladies' Committee deserve our thanks for the highly efficient manner in which they conducted the luncheon arrangements. No sacrifice is too great for them.

A special word of thanks is due to Messrs. A. Smith, M. Trainor, P. Searle, C. Peoples, J. Vickery, R. Brayan and A. McGillick for their help in conducting the meeting.

M.C.C. ATHLETIC CARNIVAL

Our best success in this carnival was in securing third place in the Senior Division; the first two places were filled by Strathfield and Lewisham.

Our most outstanding performer, and, indeed, one of the most prominent athletes at the meeting, was Peter McMaugh. He won the admiration of all by his magnificent finishes in the Senior Mile and the Senior 880 Yards. He won both these events, running with splendid judgment.

Brian Ogg also won valuable points in the Senior Division, being second in the High Jump and second in the Weight Put.

Barry Power ran a very determined race to come second in the 880 Yards, under 15.

Others to gain points were A. Khan, F. Sutton, D. Ryan, B. Walker, K. McGovern, K. Huggett, R. Byrne, R. Chue, A. Doyle, R. Crawford and D. Cannon.

We are grateful to all who took an interest in our athletes and helped in their training. We must make particular mention of Mr. McGillick and our prominent Old Boy athlete, Tom Mullins.

Congratulations to Strathfield for their great success at the carnival.

THANKS

In addition to those mentioned elsewhere in these pages, "Blue and Blue" expresses the thanks of the School and the Brothers to the Very Rev. Monsignor Wallace and the priests of the Darlinghurst parish for their zealous work on behalf of our boys; in a particular way to Rev. Father J. Weaver, for his weekly instructions to the boys; to Rev. Dr. P. J. Ryan, M.S.C., Chaplain to the Community; to our many benefactors, and to all who have helped the School in any way.

THE PARENTS' AND FRIENDS' ASSOCIATION

The Executive for 1952 consisted of:

President: Mr. T. Akhurst.

Vice-President: Mr. C. Renaud.

Secretary: Mr. L. Walford.

Assistant Secretary: Mrs. J. Murphy.

Treasurer: Mr. M. Butler.

Committee: Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Thornton, Mrs. Renaud, Mrs. Gore, Mrs. Akhurst, Mrs. Reed.

The Brother Director wishes to express his very sincere thanks to these good people for their tireless efforts on behalf of the School. The members of the Executive, together with a small band of willing workers who assisted them (a full list of names cannot be given here), worked unceasingly throughout the year to further the aims of the P. & F. Association. Never satisfied with what they had already done, they were always enthusiastic to expand the Association's activities and to try new ideas. Their eager activity on behalf of the School should awaken in all parents a similar desire to do their part in the same cause. It must have often been discouraging to the Executive to find so many parents not patronising the Association's functions. A plea is here made to all parents to co-operate as far as they can with the Executive of the P. & F.

Perhaps the most successful financially of the functions throughout the year were the Film Nights in the School Hall. For these we were again indebted to Mr. C. Renaud and his friend, Mr. Jordan, and we must thank them sincerely for their generosity.

Our thanks go again to Mrs. Ethel Gabriel and her dramatic company for the plays which they presented in the 2KY Radiatorium for the P. & F. Association. On four occasions throughout the year they gave generously of their skill, and produced the plays, "Sheppey," "Spring Tide," "The Damask Cheek" and "Madame Tic-Tac," for the benefit of the School. They are a very talented company of actors, and we are grateful for their assistance.

The Square Dances which were begun by the P. & F. in 1951 were continued throughout the winter months, and were well patronised, especially by the younger people.

At all these functions great assistance was given to us by Mr. R. Williams, who acted as doorkeeper for every function. His efficiency in his work left nothing to be desired.

The annual raffle was drawn in August, and proved very successful. The winner of the First Prize was Mrs. Walsh, of Grays Crescent, Yagoona. Other winners were Miss Choy, Sydney; Mr. H. Lewis, Paddington; Mr. E. Hynes, Earlwood, and Mr. V. Pearson, Bondi Junction.

The prize for selling the most tickets went to James Newman, of First Year.

The Parents' and Friends' Association were of great assistance at the School Fete on October 29. They conducted a very successful stall, and co-operated in many ways with the Ladies' Committee. We relied on their help again also for the catering arrangements at our Annual Athletic Meeting and the Ceremonial Parade of the Cadets.

The cost of maintenance of the School building is very high; besides, there are improvements always possible. It is for this purpose that the Parents and Friends conduct their functions. The help of every parent is earnestly requested. Any intending new members are asked to ring, or write to, Mr. L. Walford, 34 Victoria Street, Potts Point (FA6492), who is the Secretary of the Association.

OBITUARY

Rev. Br. Hubert.

REV. BROTHER HUBERT

Brother Hubert died peacefully in St. Vincent's Hospital, Darlinghurst, on the morning of May 16, 1952, after some months of a painful illness.

Of all the Brothers who have taught at the High School, perhaps none is remembered by the Old Boys with more sincere affection and admiration than is Brother Hubert. When Old Boys who had known him heard of his death, they invariably spoke of his deep piety and religious spirit, his unworldliness; he was to them the ideal Marist Brother. The comment, "He was a saint," summed up in many minds their memories of the deceased Brother.

It was a profound consolation to the Brother Provincial of the Marist Brothers, and to the Brother Director of the High School, to receive so many messages of sympathy on the death of Brother Hubert, and so many expressions of the great esteem in which Brother Hubert was held. Many Old Boys recalled, after the passage of forty years, the religious instructions they had received from Brother Hubert—the explanation and application of a Gospel text, the prayers he had taught them, the Saints he had spoken of, his advice to them. We feel that Brother's reward in Heaven is very great; at the same time, the prayers of our readers are requested for the repose of his soul.

At a meeting of the Marist Federation in May, Rev. Father G. Madden, chaplain to the Federation, while offering his sympathy to the Marist Brothers on the death of Brother Hubert, spoke with deep feeling of the debt he personally owed to Brother, and of the great admiration he had for him. In so doing, he was expressing the sentiments of all who had known the deceased Brother.

REV. BROTHER EUGENIUS

The sudden end to the life of Brother Eugenius took place on Sunday afternoon, August 3, while five Brothers from the staff of the Marist Brothers' School at Rosalie, Brisbane, were having a short car drive during the term vacation. They pulled up on the roadside, and Brother Eugenius, after gathering sticks for the fire, collapsed and passed away. The local priest was called and administered the last rites, but death seemed instantaneous. There had been practically no indication previously that Brother suffered from a heart affection.

Brother was buried after a solemn Requiem Mass in the Rosalie Church, at which all the Marist Brothers in Brisbane and about 30 Christian Brothers attended. His Grace, Archbishop Duhig, D.D., presided on the sanctuary, and addressed the congregation after Mass.

Brother Eugenius entered the Marist Brothers from Maitland in 1915. He graduated B.A. from Sydney University, and spent many years of his teaching life at Glenelg (S.A.), Kilmore (Vic.), and Darlinghurst, Hamilton, Parramatta and Eastwood. For many years (mainly in the 1930's) he taught Mathematics and Physics in the High School at Darlinghurst. Many Old Boys will remember him as a painstaking and successful teacher, and will gratefully recall his sympathetic nature.

Your fervent prayers are requested for the happy repose of his soul.

MR. PAUL FAUST,

President of the Old Boys' Union, 1944-45.

In January of this year, death claimed a most loyal friend of the High School in Mr. Paul Faust, of Blacktown. His affection for his old School was shown in a practical way by his great interest in the Old Boys' Union. He was a Committee member from 1943 to 1949, being President in 1944 and 1945, and Vice-President from 1946 to 1949. Old Boys who worked on the Committee with him retain very happy memories of his sound judgment and gentlemanly nature. Mr. Faust annually presented a special prize for Mathematics—another indication of his practical support of the School.

As a chemist at Blacktown, the late Mr. Faust was very well-known in that district; in the growing parish of Blacktown he was a great support to the Parish Priest, Rev. Father Bernard Massey, also an Old Boy of M.B.H.S.D.

Father Massey celebrated Requiem Mass for the deceased on January 18, and the funeral followed at Windsor Cemetery. The High School was represented at the funeral by the Director, Brother Michael, and by Brother Norbert, and the Old Boys' Union was represented by the Secretary, Mr. G. McCarthy.

Our sincere sympathy is offered to Mrs. Faust on the death of her husband.

---

DR. PATRICK JOSEPH O'SHEA,
M.B., Ch.M., D.S.O., M.C. and Bar,
M.I.D.

Dr. P. J. O'Shea died at the Repatriation General Hospital, Concord, on November 8, 1952. Our sincere sympathy is offered to his wife and family in their bereavement.

Patrick O'Shea spent several years at the Marist Brothers' High School, passing the Senior in 1909, and then going to the University for his medical course. Very soon after graduation he sailed on the troopship "Suevic" as medical officer. His military decorations are evidence of the great service he gave to his country on the field of battle.

Dr. O'Shea was very well-known in sporting circles in Sydney, as he was medical officer for some of the main sporting bodies.

The Old Boys' Union was represented at the funeral by the Secretary, Mr. G. McCarthy.

Your prayers are also requested for the repose of the souls of the following Old Boys:

Mr. W. Hatfield, Senr.
Dr. Tom Bolger.
Dr. E. McCarthy.
Dr. Fitzsimons.

THE LADIES' AUXILIARY

On the first Thursday of every month, in the afternoon, there is a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Nowhere could more loyal supporters of the School be found. Their interest in the School never flags; their support of the School culminates each year in the Annual Fete, which was held this year on October 29. It was a splendid success, and the thanks of the Brothers are due to the Ladies' Auxiliary for it.

The committee this year comprised Mrs. J. Fleming (President); Mrs. Hartcher (Secretary); Mrs. Dignam (Treasurer); and the following members: Mrs. Gain, Mrs. Downes, Mrs. Moroney, Mrs. Staunton, Mrs. Thornton, Mrs. Quinn, Mrs. Noel, Mrs. Finn, Mrs. Tracey, Mrs. Halcro, Mrs. Heathwood, Mrs. McMaugh, Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Studholme, Mrs. Hallinan, Mrs. Crocker, Mrs. Mulvogue, Mrs. Hoy, Mrs. O'Donoghue, Mrs. Olive.

Permanent Vice-Presidents: Most Rev. John Toohey, D.D., Co-adjutor Bishop of Maitland.

The Honourable Sir Edward McTiernan, K.B.E., P.C.,
Justice of the High Court of Australia.

Dr. Richard Flynn.

John W. P. Donnelly, Esq.

Vice-Presidents: Rev. Brother Michael (ex-officio); Senator John Armstrong; Messrs. T. Timmins, W. Wall, E. S. Ogg, S. Cusack, E. Anderson.

Secretary: G. McCarthy.

Assistant Secretary: B. T. O'Regan.

Treasurer: C. Matha.

Committee: Messrs. P. F. Dignam, R. Timmins, M. Trainor, R. Halcro, F. Durack, J. Meek, V. Davis, E. Eggleton, M. Sykes, B. Callinan, J.
Clarke, A. Cunningham, A. Goymour, E. Musgrave, M. Finn.

Hon. Auditor: F. Downs.

The Communion Breakfast and the General Meeting were held at the School on March 2. Holy Mass was offered in the School Hall by Rev. Fr. E. Kelly, M.S.C. Another Old Boy priest presided at the Breakfast—Rev. Fr. Benedict O'Donoghue, O.F.M., Parish Priest of Waverley. Rev. Fr. Austin Ryan, S.J., was also present.

It was Father Benedict's first opportunity to revisit his old school since his return from New Zealand, and we were very pleased to meet him again. In a delightful talk to the Old Boys at the Breakfast, he gave his impressions of New Zealand.

At the General Meeting which followed, the Committee for the ensuing year was elected. Mr. S. Cusack did not seek re-election as President, and it was with regret that we saw his very successful term as President draw to a close. In his place was elected Mr. Jim Ryan, one of the most enthusiastic of Old Boys, and one who will fill the position of President very capably.

The Blue and Blue Ball was held at the Trocadero on August 18, in conjunction with Our Lady of the Sacred Heart Convent, Kensington, Ex-Students' Union. Debutantes were presented to the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor of Sydney, Alderman E. O'Dea, and the Lady Mayoress, and to Rt. Rev. Monsignor E. McAuliffe, P.P., V.F., of Kensington. The Ball was an outstanding success; indeed it was the most successful Ball for the Old Boys' Union for many years. The members of the organising committee, formed jointly from the two Ex-Student Unions, deserve our gratitude and congratulations for the work they did in making the Ball such a success. About 700 people were present. We hope that this number will even be surpassed next year; if this is to be the case, then you must start organising now!

The Annual Dinner was held at Cahill's on Thursday, October 16. This is one of the most popular functions organised by the Union. Peter Dignam again bore the main work of organisation. Amongst those present were Br. Michael (Director), Br. Victor-Bernard (Director of Darlington, 1943-45), Br. Norbert and Br. Wilbred.

Several Games Nights were arranged by the Union, and held at Watson House. Mr. George McCarthy especially is to be thanked for the success of these functions.

All Old Boys of the School are urged to keep in touch with one another and with the School by joining the Old Boys' Union. All information is readily obtainable from the Secretary, George McCarthy, Watson House, Bligh Street, Sydney, BW4433, or from the School, FA3616.

* * * *

It is a pleasure to record the successes of ex-students at the University. Paul Murray has graduated Master of Agricultural Science with Honours. Congratulations, Paul. A splendid beginning of his medical course has been made by Michael Tracey. His First Year results show—Zoology: Distinction, First Place; Botany: Distinction, Third Place; Chemistry: High Distinction, Fifth Place; Physics: Credit.

Another very successful First Year student is Bernard McMaugh, who in the Faculty of Science was awarded Credits in Chemistry, Senior Physics and Maths I, and a Pass in Geology.

Donald McCallum and Peter Searle were also successful in their Science Exams; Basil Cameron passed First Year Medicine with flying colours. Amongst Old Boys to graduate this year we mention the following group in the Faculty of Law: Marq Jackson, LL.B.; John White, LL.B.; Bruce Manion, LL.B.

Bill O'Donnell is nearing the end of his course in Architecture.

Brigadier Hinton, M.C., E.D., presenting his trophy for the Champion Rifleman to Cdt./Lt. R. Byrne.

Making his name in the world of Accountancy is Brian Fraser, who is already a Chartered Accountant. He has wasted no time in achieving this distinction so soon after leaving school.

* * * *

It is with particular pleasure that we congratulate Lieut. Ted Hynes on his graduation this December from the Royal Military College, Duntroon. For the next few years he will be in Sydney, doing further studies at Sydney University. We are pleased to see that Darlington will still be represented at Duntroon after Ted's departure. Ted has played for Duntroon against the Combined G.P.S. for the last two years in the annual Rugby Union match in Sydney.

* * * *

Hubert Vaughan is a name famous in the annals of Darlington, from the years at the beginning of this century, when his success in Mathematics in public exams was phenomenal. His outstanding career has been further advanced by his appointment early this year as one of the Board of Directors of the Mutual Life & Citizens' Assurance Company.

* * * *

Committee man Bob Halcro was married in July of this year to Miss Pam Dale, of Maroubra. Congratulations and best wishes!

Another member of the 1946 L.C. Class to be married this year was Michael McHugh—at St. Canice's, on Easter Monday. Michael is receiving rapid promotion in the R.A.A.F.

Congratulations also to Bill Brouggy, who was married in February this year.

* * * *

Senator John Armstrong, now Deputy Leader of the Opposition in the Senate, made a tour of South-East Asia by plane in October. The tour took him to Djakarta (Indonesia), Singapore, Bangkok, Formosa and Manila.

* * * *

Two Old Boys, prominent in the business world, who recently returned from abroad, are Albert Luciano, who as General Manager of Century Storage Battery Limited made a survey by air of Indonesia, Singapore, Malaya and Hong Kong to develop his firm's export trade, and Ray Webster, who returned from America after studying the textile trade there.

* * * *

Brother Hilary, who was well known on the staff here in the 'thirties, is now spending a year abroad for further experience and training. He is at present at one of the houses of the Marist Brothers in France. The Old Boys' Union sent their good wishes to him by telegram when his ship was leaving Sydney.

* * * *

Good news continues to come from Techny, Illinois, U.S.A., regarding the progress of Brother Patrick Murphy, S.V.D., in his studies for the priesthood. One of the first two Australians to join the Society of the Divine Word, he is to be ordained in August, 1953. We look forward eagerly to the happy day.

* * * *

John Blackburn is making a very slow recovery from his severe attack of polio. After many long months in hospitals, he is now home at Drummoyne, but progress is very slow. Jim Hammond spends a great deal of time with John; other Old Boys from John's class call in from time to time. Perhaps those calls could be more numerous?

* * * *

Congratulations to the following Old Boys who have been outstandingly successful in the realm of sport this year:—

Ray Lindwall, who has shown since his return from England that he is still in the front rank of the world's bowlers. Congratulations also on the birth of a son and heir.

Jack Clarke, who performed very creditably in his first Sheffield Match. He played for Queensland on the Sydney Cricket Ground, taking five wickets for 60 in N.S.W.'s first innings, dismissing Barnes and Miller amongst others. It was remarkable that in this interstate game, the opening bowler for each state was an Old Boy of M.B.H.S.D.: Ray Lindwall captained premierships teams for Darlinghurst in the M.C.C. competition in 1938 and 1939, and played in the premierships team of 1937; Jack Clarke was in the premierships team of 1945.

Tom Mullins: I quote from the Sunday Herald (9/11/52): Twenty-two-year-old all-rounder Tom Mullins yesterday broke Canadian George Sutherland's long-standing Australian hammer throw record.

Mullins, a competitor in the interclub athletic competitions at Moore Park, threw the hammer 174 ft.

The Australian record (for all-comers), held by Sutherland, was 163 ft. 8 in., made in 1938 at the Sydney Cricket Ground.

"It was an amazing throw," said Australia's outstanding performer for many years in hammer-throwing, Keith Parndon.

Mullins, who has been competing for Moore Park in sprinting, hurdling, discus, javelin, and hammer throwing in the past two years, is a brother of Peter Mullins, who represented Australia in the 1948 Olympic Games.

He has been throwing the hammer for five years.

His throw, into a strong wind, broke every record set in Australia.

Pardon, who held the Australian native record at 162 ft. 5½ in., was second to Mullins yesterday.

"If he concentrates on this event he should soon get into the best world class," said Pardon.

Phil Cayser, who represented Australia at Helsinki in the Olympic Games this year. Phil was stroke of the Australian Eight.

We quote from the Sunday Herald of 22/6/52 the following reference to Jim Brassil, who in the few years since he left Darlinghurst has made his name in many places, particularly in the political life of the University, and now in a wider field of politics.

REBEL BRINGS NEW IDEAS TO A.L.P. BACK ROOM

Mr. Jim Brassil, 22-year-old school-teacher and University student, is said to be the youngest member ever elected to the N.S.W. Executive of the Australian Labour Party.

He is another Labour man who has broken through the party's resentment against the intrusion of "the intellectual."

But although his political future was cast in the bright furnace of intellectual ideals at Sydney University, it was moulded by more sombre realities.

Big—he is 6 ft. 3 in. and 14 stone—he battled around a lot and had some of the corners knocked off his ideas. He represents the growth of a beaver-like activity of certain rank and file groups in the Labour leagues. It was these forces that upset control of the party machine at the Annual Conference on June 7. Brassil helped to plan this resurgence. That is why the "rebels" asked him to agree to nominate for the new executive.

His interest in the A.L.P. absorbs almost all his spare time. He holds half a dozen official positions in different sections of the party. He is President of the Eastern Suburbs Regional Committee, President of Maroubra Junction Branch, senior Vice-President of Maroubra State Electoral Council. Outside politics he is

JIM BRASSIL.

Science Master at Kogarah Intermediate High School.

Quiet but deliberate and self-assured, Brassil helped to plan the upset of the radicals who had control of the Labour group at the University, to organise the A.L.P. regional committees, and he is the only survivor of the original 12 planners of the A.L.P. Youth Council.

Earlier this year he stood for A.L.P. pre-selection for the Federal Seat of Watson. He was beaten by the sitting member, Mr. Dan Curtin.

We have read during the year many interesting articles on Economics, published in Catholic magazines, written by Ken Walker, B.Ec. Ken has been leading a very studious life; consult him if you want to know the Church's thought on Economics.

The woodpecker keeps pecking away using his head to dig food and to hollow out a wooden nest. But always when he's finished he has something to show for his work.

Many people, on the other hand, work their heads off, spend their money as fast as they make it and then at the end of each year are just as poor as when they started. All their work has seemingly gone for nothing.

YOUNG MEN

—a new line of thought

In the United States of America large numbers of young men learn shorthand with a view to learning administration by first becoming a competent secretary to a big executive for two or three years. During that time they can study an Accountancy-Company Secretarial Course and be fully equipped for important commercial work.

Young men trained in Summerhayes SHORTERhand would be in strong demand by important executives. Any really intelligent young man working constantly with highly-placed and highly-salaried executives has an unrivalled opportunity of learning the principles of administration. They have the daily opportunity of observing the operations of a "big" mind at work. They take an increasingly important part in big thinking at high levels . . . they get opportunities to show their mettle.

A young man who followed exactly this plan under Mr. Summerhayes' advice some 20 years ago is to-day one of the highest administrators in Sydney and one of the most highly-remunerated men in the Commonwealth.
