Foreword

As 1962 draws to a close, our fiftieth anniversary at Darlinghurst recedes in the past giving hope of a centenary looming closer in the future; for this was our eighty-eighth year. It has been a momentous one not only for education in general but also for Catholic education in particular.

Three significant advances have been made during the year: the implementation of First Form under the Wyndham Scheme, a rationalization of Catholic educational facilities, and a changing attitude towards public support of denominational schools.

Although it is still too soon to pass conclusive judgment on the Wyndham Scheme, some remarks appear relevant. One obvious benefit has been a remarkable surge in education both on the part of teachers and public alike, an interest shown in frequent newspaper comments and articles, in special courses for teachers, and in the painstaking work devoted to constructing new syllabuses by the various select committees representative of all groups including Catholic. All this must aid the ultimate success of the Scheme.

But, perhaps the greatest benefit has been the "new deal" for the average student. Now, his studies are no longer restricted by the narrowing demands of university matriculation despite the fact that often he had neither the intention nor the ability to pursue education at the teaching level.

On the other hand, gifted students seem to have lost in this "new deal". Courses are set at "ordinary" and "advanced" levels, the advanced level being that for the able student. In theory, the scheme is workable; in practice, it appears doubtful that a really advanced standard will actually be achieved by these "advanced" students. The syllabuses in some subjects are perhaps too broad; period allotments for mathematics and science have been reduced; and too much time is given to "core" subjects which in an age of specialization must be regarded as incidental to the main body of subjects. Extra time is, however, given to English and this is a welcome change. English is the tool of our day-to-day communication and even if measured merely from a utilitarian view, should receive first priority.

In Catholic schools the time has come for thorough reorganization or set up central secondary schools so that better use will be made of facilities and staff. Such a change has become increasingly necessary over the past few years because of larger enrolments, increased capital costs, the need for specialist teachers, and the provision of a wider variety of courses. Though the reorganization has inconvenienced many, and though the difficulties at present appear great, it seems certain that the change will, within a few years, be shown as a significant advance for the Catholic education system.

The third question, tax support for denominational schools, has probably reached the most interesting stage in the history of this controversy in Australia. It is now not only a familiar topic of conversation but also a calm and more reasoned one, a development promoted largely through the closure of the Goulburn schools, and the petition of His Eminence Cardinal Gilroy to Mr. Heffron.

Perhaps our Catholic people should see in these events the key to their own attitude. It calls for some revision. Too often in the past Catholic advocacy of State support has been characterized by traces of bitterness which has antagonized rather than convinced. This is not our aim. Bitterness does harm. The average Australian prides himself on a sense of fair play; he is willing to be persuaded by reasoned, unbiassed discussion which it should be our aim to provoke.

In the non-Catholic community there remains a substantial majority who, if present signs are any indication, could be won over to our point of view. These are the ones who should be approached at every opportunity.

But that is not enough. We, ourselves, must be well acquainted with the facts, to be able to meet the common arguments against the proposal. In this matter, two Catholic Truth Society publications will be of great assistance. One is Bishop Carroll's "Independent Schools in a Free Society" and the other, Kathleen Woolf's "Freedom of Choice", both of which will help with the perennial arguments which the layman often finds difficulty in meeting.

Again, as in the Jubilee Year, 1961, the School has flourished. A spirit of piety and goodwill prevails among the students in their efforts not only to master lessons but also to acquit themselves worthily on the playing field. The Old Boys' Union and Parents and Friends' Association have functioned with vigour.

Readers are, therefore, invited to peruse yet another record of Darlinghurst achievement, confident that our true tradition prevails.

A Brother in the Making

This attempts to answer a fairly common question these days when there is so much spoken and written about the Wyndham Scheme and the great call that it makes on all teachers to acquire the highest qualifications for educating young people in this jet age.

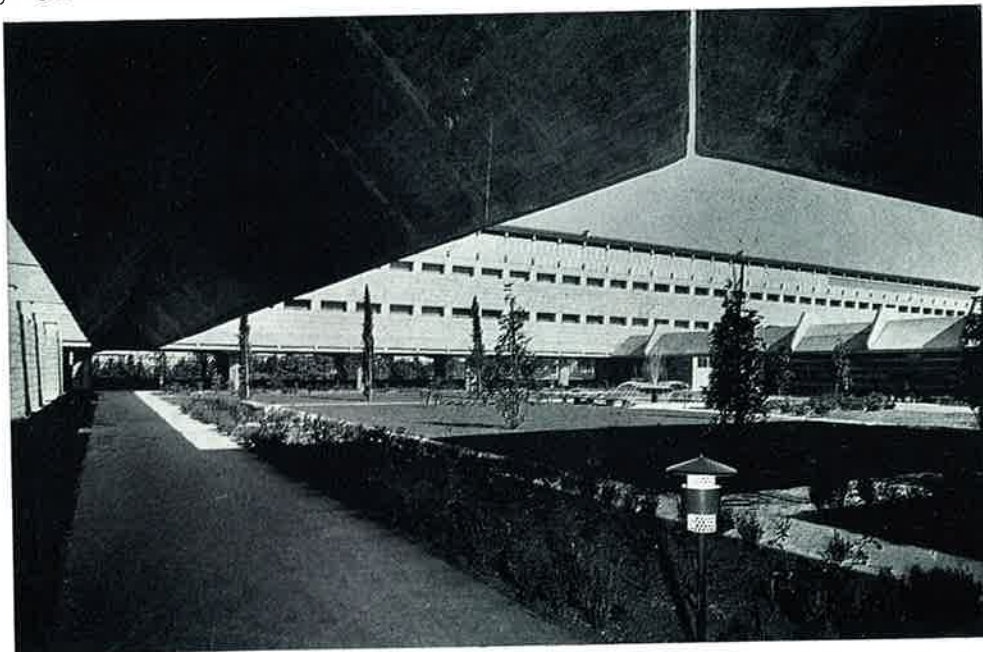

As you can see from the accompanying photos of our Mother House, the Marist Brothers have made great advances in the training of the Brothers in recent years. We built a modern Scholasticate in Sydney within the last few years.

In Australia, the training begins at our Juniorates in New South Wales and Victoria. Here aspirants begin their Fourth Year studies for the Leaving Certificate examination, coupled with an introduction to the practices of the religious life.

After the Junior passes the Leaving Certificate, he proceeds to the Novitiate where he undergoes intensive training in the monastic life; this lasts for eighteen months. Requirements of the vows of religion and of

However, the longest period of the Brother's preparation begins after this preliminary work has been done. The training in these final four years is given in greater detail in the following account of our Scholasticate at Champagnat College, Dundas, N.S.W. The Master of Scholastics is a highly-qualified Marist Brother, Rev. Brother Ronald Fogarty, F.M.S., B.A., B.Ed., B.Sc., Ph.D.; he is assisted by other specially-trained Brothers.

"The teaching office is a lofty position which calls for goodness of heart, for capacity for intuition and delicacy of spirit, for adaptability and adjustment, as well as human depth capable of bearing all for love of neighbour. It further requires outstanding professional competency . . . if it is not to be unworthy of a mission which serves not merely the people and the State, but also God, the Church and souls."

These words of Pius XII set forth in bold relief the qualities of soul necessary for the true Christian educator: he is to be a saint and a scholar dedicated to youth for the greater glory of God. Such a man does not evolve naturally; his potential excellence is brought to a full maturity only through years of careful formation. So it is that the young Brother, after six months' valuable experience in the schools, comes to the Scholasticate at Dundas to complete this final stage of his formal training. The keynote of this training is a whole-hearted and disciplined application to the means put in his hands by the superiors. In a word, it is a process of "guided self-formation" by which the young Brother strives to attain responsible maturity in those areas most vital to his development as a full man and as a religious educator, namely, academic, emotional, religious, and professional.

The intellectual formation is provided by studies at the tertiary level in Arts and Science, together with courses in Thomistic philosophy. Such academic pursuits develop mental maturity and sound judgment, besides providing the specialised knowledge necessary for a teacher to be master of his subjects.

Parallel to these profane studies are his religious studies, presented at the same high level and offering a similar challenge and satisfaction. To this end, courses are provided in Theology, Sacred Scripture, and Religious Pedagogy. However, the most vital aspect of religious grounding is found in the Ascetical Theology course; for it is through a deep and prayerful study of the principles of the religious life that the Brother deepens his convictions and grows in self-knowledge. This introduces another important feature in formation: adjustment of personality, which is achieved through full co-operation with counsellor, instructors and fellow students. By this means a young man may fully realise his potential and adapt himself to the practical living of the religious life according to the needs and pressures of the present day.

Finally, professional competence is essential if a Brother is to be an effective educator, for it is mainly by a keen understanding of pedagogical principles and methods that he can impart to his students the intellectual and moral goodness which he himself possesses. The basic concept is clearly revealed in the motto of Champagnat College: "Contemplata aliis tradere"—to hand on to others those things which one has himself contemplated. The "handing on" technique is mastered by means of pedagogical studies of a highly-specialised nature. So it is that the Brothers are divided into two groups: one completing a teacher-training course for certification as registered teachers, the other gaining the Diploma of Education in the fourth year at University.

In its short history, Champagnat College has already established some sharply-defined traditions. First of these might be the constant endeavour displayed by the Brothers in both their personal and their united efforts to measure up to the high ideals already discussed. This has led to outstanding academic successes, as evidenced by the high percentage of distinctions and first places in university class lists, and to the striking personal development which, though less easily measured, is very real. Evidence of local cultural expansion is manifested in the production of musical and dramatical pieces and in the publication of an annual review, "Contemplata".

The atmosphere of brotherly charity which exists at Dundas is sustained by the Ascetical Theology groups. These are the "power units" that create the special environment. In carefully-chosen groups, the Brothers, by mutual help and encouragement in the discussion of religious themes, discover the reality of Christ in themselves and in their fellows. This final aspect reveals itself in the Brother's consciousness of his mission at the university, for he can silently exercise a great influence for good in the secular environment by the example of his life of external devotion to duty and by the Christ-image which he projects more or less as he becomes progressively absorbed in the work of his vocation.

Sodality of Our Lady

After a lapse of some years, the Sodality has been resumed as the official spiritual society of the school.

The Sodality of Our Lady is an old one and has been in existence for nearly 400 years. It counts many saints, such as St. Vincent de Paul and St. Bernadette, and an equal number of Popes among its former members.

The sodality aims at the development and strengthening of the characters of its members both by spiritual exercises and practical charity. The activity of the Sodality includes work at St. Vincent's Hospital, St. Edmund's School for Blind Boys and the Catholic Seamen's Institute. As well, this year, the Sodality raised funds for the Japanese missions.

Thanks are due this year to Rev. Father Grew, our first spiritual director, who helped us so much in getting started, and to Rev. Father McAlary, his successor. Our thanks also go to Brothers Norman and Lionel for their advice and assistance during the year.

Mention must also be made of the fine work done by the executive of 1962: President, P. O'Donnell; Secretary, J. Venables; Treasurer, N. Pye.

The 1963 executive is: President, R. Akhurst; Secretary, J. Andersen; Treasurer, M. Storey.

SECOND YEAR CADETS

Cadets

This year's activities were entered into with great enthusiasm by the whole unit. It was evident that with the help of W.O. II Galloway and the keenness of C.U.O's Grahame Turner and Douglas Rawling together with the N.C.O's, the training would reach a high standard.

COMPETITIONS WITH SAINT JOSEPH'S COLLEGE

Several weeks of preparation preceded the visit of the unit to Hunter's Hill in April. Our band won a narrow victory. The first-year cadets came third in a drill and marching competition, in which a total of five platoons participated. Cadets D. Norris and P. Harris proved our most accurate marksmen and, with the help of the other six members of the team took out a well-earned victory with a score of 498 to 490.

ANZAC DAY

On Anzac Day a guard was mounted at the catafalque in the Sacred Heart Church while the other cadets attended the Requiem Mass. Later in the day the band participated in the march through the city streets.

ANNUAL CAMP

The year's training culminated in the Annual Camp. Although an attack of fever partly depleted our ranks, the week at Singleton was a great success. Living under canvas was a novel experience for the first-year cadets, while all enjoyed their bivouacs, either during operation "Contact" or during the unit's own exercises in the field.

Football

This year the Metropolitan Catholic Colleges Competition was very closely contested. The outcome seemed always in the balance since no one team survived the season undefeated and the hope of the three teams depended on the result of the last round. Darlinghurst had its share of successes, the B Grade team being the most successful. We wish to thank Messrs. G. Boyd and D. Encarnacao for their support and assistance during the season.

Congratulations to Strathfield, 1962 A Grade Premiers and to the premiership teams in the other grades.

The rather short competition during the first term resulted in the First XI being runners-up and the Second XI winning the premiership. Our congratulations to Strathfield, the A grade premiers, who narrowly defeated us to take the Aggregate Trophy for the competition.

Athletics

Picturesque "Reg. Bartley Oval" set in Rushcutter's Bay Park was the venue for our annual Athletics Carnival this year. The Sunday cleared into a glorious day after a week of uncertain weather and, although our pre-carnival events were affected, the day's programme was able to proceed smoothly. This year, Loyola House (Red), captained by John Venables, won the House Shield by a margin of ninety points from Aquinas House.

The age champions were:

Senior—L. Boyd.

Under 16—P. Brooks.

Under 15—R. Quinn.

Under 14—P. McMahon.

Under 13—F. Cahill.

Under 12—P. Lynch.

Under 11—G. Redman.

Under 10—K. Ballard, G. Kimber.

Under 9—P. Reilly.

New records established this year were:
880 yds. under 14: 2 min. 25.6 secs.—Paul Vrolyks.

Mile under 14: 5 min. 20 secs.—Paul Vrolyks.

220 yds. under 12: 29 secs.—Peter Lynch.

220 yds. under 13: 27.4 secs.—Francis Cahill.

880 yds. under 15: 2 min. 17.2 secs., Christopher Frost.

In the M.C.C. Carnival, P. Hardy won the 100 yards under 12. In the senior division, L. Boyd filled the third placing in the 100 yards, 220 yards, and 440 yards, and was a member of the senior relay team which ran a close third. G. Stanmore gained a third in the under 15 shot putt, while G. Redman and N. McKenna gained third 100 yards under 12, respectively. In the under 12 440 yards, Darlinghurst filled the third placing.

The Annual Retreats

The Annual Retreats for all secondary classes were held at the Sacred Heart Monastery at Kensington during the second term. This gave valuable time, especially to the Leaving Certificate boys, for thinking seriously on their present life and obligations and, we hope, to a wise choice of career when they leave school.

Holy Mass was celebrated each morning at 11.30, thus giving each boy a good opportunity of receiving Holy Communion. We at the High School are most grateful to the Sacred Heart Fathers and Brothers for their guidance and help during the days of Retreat.

BROTHERS PATRICK, SAMUEL AND URBAN

There were many new faces watching the first school assembly of 1962, for Brothers Patrick, Samuel and Urban had been transferred to Brisbane after having spent many years teaching in New South Wales.

Brother Patrick had been at the High School for almost ten years, during which time he had completed his Bachelor of Arts degree at Sydney University and had obtained his Diploma of Education at the University of New England. Added to these qualifications was Brother Patrick's sympathetic approach that gave him a tremendous influence with the senior boys in all aspects of their school life.

Few sportsmasters would have known more about the prowess of individual boys than Brother Patrick. Surely it was this knowledge that accounted for Darlinghurst's phenomenal success on the sporting field over the past ten years and against larger M. C. schools. So wide was Brother Patrick's influence that the same boys who excelled in athletics produced excellent standards of scholastic attainment under his expert guidance.

Brother Samuel had been here even a little longer than Brother Patrick and, although he held sway mainly in the primary department of the school, his forceful character made its impact on all pupils, young and old, as he organised the Cadet Unit or assisted Brother Patrick in training the primary boys in the basic principles of the various school sports.

Brother Urban returned to Queensland well able to show the ropes to Brother Patrick and Brother Samuel, for he had already taught in our schools, for many years, from Brisbane to Cairns.

We trust that the three Brothers have not become too attached to the North and will one day move aside to allow us, from the South, to bask in the Queensland sun.

Old Boys continue to ask about the various Brothers who guided their destinies through the many decades in the school's history.

We commence our notes by recording the death of Brother Brendan, whom High School boys remember as the Brother Provincial who visited Darlinghurst in the '20's. Brother Brendan died in Melbourne this year at the age of ninety-two.

Brother Daniel collapsed on his way to Queensland during the August holidays and died a few days later in the Mater Hospital, Brisbane.

Other Brothers who have laboured here continue their work in the various schools.

Brother Ethelred, the Master of Novices, is just completing his term at Mittagong, and, after many long years, we may see him in Sydney next year.

Brother Michael was appointed, at the beginning of the year, as Vice-Principal at St. Joseph's College, Hunter's Hill.

Brother Jude, after a fairly prolonged stay in St. Vincent's, has joined Brother Michael and Brother Maurus at Hunter's Hill.

Brother Venard has found his school at St. Benedict's involved in the recent re-arrangement of the diocesan schools.

Brother Demetrius is still in charge of our big Newcastle school.

Brother Leo is not far away these days at Daveyville. He, too, has been in hospital on a couple of occasions during the year.

Brother Stanislaus is also one of our neighbours at Randwick.

Brother Gerard continues his training of aspirants to the Brothers at Mittagong.

Brothers Alban and Peter are here at Darlinghurst this year.

Early in the year the Brothers in Sydney attended the funeral of Brother Elgar's mother who died after a long illness.

On July 2, at St. Joseph's College, John Thompson and Warren Gummer were received into the Marist Order and later, on August 15, Michael Healy received the religious habit.

At the Mittagong Juniorate, Robert Jones is filling the top places in study at Fourth Year standard.

Social Activities

THE SENIOR DANCE

What a night was the 20th August, 1962, at Paddington Town Hall. The occasion was the Annual Dance for Fourth and Fifth Year classes. We spent weeks learning how to dance—perhaps you could call it training, for it was just as hard as practising for an athletic event.

Most boys were scared — scared of a dance—but they soon lost this feeling as the night got under way and all enjoyed themselves. Our partners—from St. Vincent's, Potts Point, and the Brigidine Convent, Randwick—helped us to spend a night to remember. We would like to say "thanks" to them and the good Sisters who allowed them to come.

Our gratitude also goes to our Headmaster Brother Norman who organised the whole evening, to Mr. T. Akhurst, Master of Ceremonies and to the orchestra headed by its drummer Mr. P. Bull—a band that kept us with "itchy feet". We have not forgotten, of course, the tempting spread provided by the Parents and Friends' Association and we thank you, ladies, for a splendid supper.

Finally, we appreciate the presence of Mr. Froulop and Miss Paton. Besides preparing us for our big night, they gave us a memorable exhibition of ballroom dancing.

FAREWELL DINNER TO THE LEAVING CERTIFICATE CLASS

An indication of the growth of the school was apparent at the dinner given to the departing Leaving Certificate class by Fourth Year. A crowd of 190 guests were present on 28th September at the Paddington Town Hall, which was decorated in the school colours by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Visitors at the official table included the School Chaplain, Fr. McAlary, Headmasters of Bondi Beach, Paddington and Woollahra, representatives of the Old Boys' Union, and the Parents' and Friends' Association.

All the after-dinner speakers were confident and successful, but, by general acclamation, Peter Smiles was judged the best of those who spoke.

Two valuable books were presented to the school for its library by the Leaving Class, to whom Brother Norman gave some parting words of advice. In this he was supported by Brother Ferrer, who also read out the Special Prize List for 1962.

An address by the Chaplain, Fr. M. McAlary, brought to an end a very enjoyable evening.

The toast list was as follows:

Chairman: Barry Holman.

Toast to the Leaving Certificate Class

Proposed by: John Andersen.

Seconded by: Guy Hartcher.

Replied to by: John Venables.

Seconded by: Peter Brooks.

Toast to the Alma Mater

Proposed by: Grahame Turner.

Seconded by: Peter Smiles.

Replied to by: Rev. Brother Norman.

Seconded by: Rev. Brother Ferrer.

Address by the School Chaplain: Rev. Fr. M. McAlary.

BANQUET FOR WINNING TEAM

The Reds, in their best form for three years, were rewarded last month with the annual team banquet.

Under the patronage of Brother Hugh and the leadership of John Venables, the "mighty" Reds have come to the foreground in almost every field of sporting activity this year.

The organisation of the winning team banquet was left in the competent hands of Brother Norman and the Parents and Friends' Association, who did most to make the dinner a success.

After being congratulated on their victory and complimented on their team spirit, the Reds, through their captain, expressed their gratitude to the other teams who afforded them such keen competition.

The banquet was indeed a worthy end to a great year in sporting victories for Loyola House.

MITTAGONG ATHLETICS

Competition breeds the best result; so with this in mind, Brother Lionel commanded his athletic team to "volunteer" for the annual journey to the Open Day at the Juniorate, Mittagong. Thus, on the prescribed Sunday, our worthy athletes embarked. Some were driven up in private cars, the less-fortunate ones taking the bus.

All arrived without mishap in time for lunch. Pies and Passiona, the athlete's diet, went down well with steaks and vitamin-packed cakes. The blue-and-blue singlets bulged slightly as our runners bounded along in front of the field, in most cases, cheered on by parents who had come up for the day.

With typical thoroughness, the Brothers and Juniors managed to include a fete in the afternoon's events and some monetary gains were made by amateur gamblers, while pros. lost sixpences heavily.

As the sun sank slowly in the west and shadows lengthened, a procession of cars wended their way out of the green fields. From some could be heard a faint chant: "Who are, who are, who are we? We are the M.B.H.S.D.". It was Darlinghurst's big day!

B. HOLMAN.

GOLF

The Annual Golf Championships were played this year at the St. Michael's and Woollahra courses.

Denis Mancell took out the Senior Championship with a score of 84 and John O'Neill finished four strokes behind.

The Junior Championship played this year over the Woollahra course was closely contested. The preliminary round resulted in a play-off, from which John Cooke emerged a close winner from Paul Vrolyks and Kerry Griffin.

The leading scores were:

Senior

D. Mancell 84, J. O'Neill 88, N. Fraser 92.

Junior

J. Cooke 56, P. Vrolyks 57.

THE CAMPBELLTOWN TRIP

Through the organisation of the school and the generosity of many parents, the cricket day at Campbelltown was highly successful, both on and off the field.

Fine weather greeted us and three evenly-fought matches were enjoyed by all. The A and B grades were victorious and, at the same time, the tour gave both teams an opportunity to reach concert pitch for the M.C.C. finals the following week.

We were grateful to the College for the use of their bus to and from the railway and to the Brothers of Campbelltown for a most enjoyable day away from the city.

M. AISBETT.

O.B.U.—continued (see page 46)

During the year, Rev. Father P. Murphy, S.V.D., visited the school on his way back from India to New Guinea to open a seminary for training native priests in the South-West Pacific area.

Mentioned recently in a Franciscan periodical was the name of Rev. Benedict O'Donoghue, who this year celebrated his Silver Jubilee of ordination to the priesthood. Father Benedict was at the High School in the late twenties.

At the conferring of degrees in Newcastle early in the year was John Hurley (1946-1950) who had graduated B.A. He is now teaching at Jesmond High School, Newcastle.

Now that the M.C.C. cricket tour has commenced we frequently hear an Old Boy's voice in the person of Ray Lindwall, whose skill and experience fit him admirably as a radio cricket commentator.

During the year we had our annual visit and illustrated lecture from Rev. Father P. Murray and Old Boy seminarians from Manly. Father Murray's assistants were Eugene Szondi, Kevin Fitzpatrick, Terry Quinn, Jim Grainger and John Murray.

Bill Kerwin of Channel Seven's "Star-time" is about to seek fresh pastures overseas and we hear Mark Trainor is planning a world tour also; it's one way to find what Brother Luke is up to in England.

Parents' and Friends' Association

President: Mr. T. Akhurst

Vice-Presidents: Messrs. D. G. Simpson and O. Howard

Secretary: Mrs. T. Akhurst

Assistant Secretary: Mrs. J. Langdon

Treasurer: Mr. J. Langdon

The activities of the Parents and Friends' Association for 1962 were, as in previous years, highly successful. They may be summarized from the President's report as follows:

1. Building Improvements and Maintenance of the School

Although the Association is still engaged in repaying the loan for the laboratory, we were still able to renew the flooring in the first-floor classrooms. The cost was considerably reduced by the work of the Men's Auxiliary in taking out the old floors.

A survey of the past seven years' activities shows that £18,000 has been spent by the Association on the following: toilet block, painting, new equipment, plumbing, electrical repairs, renovation of the Brothers' monastery and the new laboratories. This clearly demonstrates the need for our activities.

The debt remaining on the loan raised last year for the laboratory is £1,800. The Treasurer's report shows that the credit balance of £1,300 will offset most of the debt.

2. Boys' Night, Holden Circle, Annual Fete

Over the years the Committee has clearly established that the most favoured and convenient method of raising funds is in the form of two Boys' Nights, the Annual Fete, and more recently, Holden Circles. The Association is very pleased and gratified by the response to all these activities during the past year.

3. The Ladies' Committee

As in the case in all organizations of this type, the Ladies' Committee is essential if the various functions are to be successful. To have a Ladies' Committee is the first step to have an efficient and happy Ladies'

Committee is the secret of all success. In addition to playing an important role in the conduct of Boys' Nights, Mothers' Day Fete, and the Annual Fete, the Darlinghurst mothers and their friends willingly expended their energies in the many duties associated with the preparation of lunches and afternoon teas at football and athletic carnivals, the banquet for the successful School House, the Leaving Certificate Dinner, and supper at the School Dance. In addition, this year Darlinghurst was host school for Metropolitan Catholic Colleges' Association activities, which required extra tasks of the ladies. Happily, our Ladies' Committee is building a reputation for harmony and efficiency which are the basis of their success. Cheerfully, we acknowledge their enthusiasm and offer them our grateful thanks.

4. Social

It is pleasing to record also that the Association's social life is growing stronger and its activities are increasing. Some of these features have included a Golf Day, Christmas Social, Men's Night, a function held early in the year to enable fathers to meet the Brothers and one another, a June Social, and help with sports days at Campbelltown and Mittagong.

Some details of income:

Annual Fete .....	£935	5	01
Boys' Nights .....	£977	16	0
Holden Circle .....	£850	0	0
Mothers' Day Fete .....	£97	10	0
Football and Athletic Carnivals .....	£25	16	0
Cabarets .....	£25	16	0
Men's Social .....	£10	1	0
Ladies' Luncheon .....	£7	17	6

The Brothers are deeply appreciative of the unstinted support and self-sacrificing generosity of the Association, especially of its Ladies' Committee and Men's Auxiliary.

THE WAKE

After a happy and successful association extending over many years, the ex-Students Association of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart College, Kensington, and the Union, decided, by mutual consent, to end their relationship and resume their own separate social functions.

It was decided to mark the occasion by conducting a "Wake" at the Crusty Cellars on 26th July, as the last joint function. There was a capacity crowd, representing both associations, and it was the happiest and most enjoyable function the Union had been associated with for many years.

During the evening, Mr. Len Smith, the President of the Union, made a presentation on behalf of the Union to Mrs. Wheeler, who was President of the O.L.S.H. Association for the whole period of the "joint venture". Mr. Tom Timmins, the President of the Union when the collaboration started, spoke in support.

The "Wake" served to mark the severance of the association in the same atmosphere of friendliness and harmony which had marked the association over the years, and was a night which will be long remembered by all who were lucky enough to be present.
